PALMA TO RESIGN; DESSRES TO FORCE U. S. TO INTERVENE

Taft at Outs With Cuban President—May Land Troops at Any Moment.

THREE MORE WARSHIPS AND MARINES DISPATCHED

American Representatives Disgusted with Petty Tactics of Moderates.
Armed Intervention Now
Regarded as Absolute Certainty.

Havana, September 25.—The Cuban republic tonight stands on the verge of a second period of American intervention. The moderate party, which six weeks ago was in absolute control of every office in the island, national, provincial and municipal, is tonight determined to abdicate everything and compel the United States to interfere, in fact every government official from President Palma down, is sincerely anxious to force such intervention rather than yield to any one of the terms offered by the liberal party and those in arms against the government. The liberal leaders characterize the conduct of the government as treason to the republic, while Secretary of War Taft regards it as an unwarranted and dishonorable attempt to force the hand of the United States into intervention. This, it has been stated, is precisely what the Roosevelt administration has been most anxious to avoid. It is still just barely possible that President Roosevelt, through Secretary Taft and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon, may yet arrange to establish the liberals in control of the Cuban government, but this is regarded only as the remotest sort of possibility. With either party installed in power, there would still remain a condition of deplorable dissatisfaction and unrest and tonight there appears nothing whatever to promise save control by the United States.

Acting Secretary of Interior Montalvo declared this evening that he would never turn over the army to the liberals under any circumstances, but all government officials unite in saying that if the rebels in the field or any part of them resist American control, the Cuban army would cooperate with the United States in every way possible.

Palace Is Exultant.
The real feeling at the palace is one of relief in the prospect that the adversaries of the government will not win even though the government loses, combined with the satisfaction that the United States will be obliged to take over Cuba indefinitely and possibly for ever.

President Palma has called a special session of congress for Friday, when he will present the resignations of himself and Vice President Mendez Capote. The moderates, however, will not attend that session of congress, for in their hurriedly called national moderate assembly this afternoon they decided unanimously to quit forthwith. They will not even attend the approaching session or have anything to do with the government of Cuba, alleging that they have been unfairly treated by President Roosevelt's commissioners.

This determination is taken by Messrs. Taft and Bacon, however, as another indication that the moderate leaders, since they can no longer control the government, themselves and the government, at whatever cost that the liberals shall not now or hereafter obtain control.

At the conclusion of the moderate assembly this afternoon Vice President Mendez Capote called upon the American commissioners and declared that he had been instructed by the moderate assembly to draft a reply to Secretary Taft's letter to President Palma, in which peace terms were suggested. After this interview Senator Mendez Capote said:

To Block Action.
"I have resigned irrevocably my position as vice president of the republic. I resign because the resignation of President Palma was forced upon him by causes destructive to the dignity and decorum of the office of the chief executive. The president will convene congress in extraordinary session on Friday to consider his resignation and my own."

Mendez Capote said further that the entire body of moderates in both houses, as well as the entire liberal national or Nunez party would refrain from attending the extraordinary session. As the moderates and the nationalists comprise more than two-thirds of each house there will be no quorum. This will block action.

Mendez Capote emphatically condemned the alleged partiality of the American commissioners, and said he expressed the opinion of many of the members of his party, when he declared that Secretaries Taft and Bacon had placed themselves unreservedly on the side of the liberals, and against the existing recognized government. He said that even had they accepted the basis of peace first presented by the mediators, he did not think the island would have remained at peace for thirty days.

Mendez Capote has called another meeting of the moderates for Thursday to determine the attitude of the party toward the approaching extraordinary session of congress.

While the developments recorded today are profoundly serious, the outward appearance of things was distinctly peaceful. This was the quietest day yet at the American legation, where the commissioners have been holding their hear-and He Fired—O'Neill's Condition Is Serious.

Charlotte, N. C., September 25.—J. J. Hatch, a member of the freshman class at the University of North Carolina, shot and perhaps fatally wounded Bernard O'Neill, a sophomore of Wilmington, on the campus this evening. O'Neill received a bullet in his right groin and was carried to the college infirmary, where he is in a serious condition. Hatch, following the shooting, fled to his room and held off would-be captors with his pistol. Finally he admitted a newspaper correspondent to whom he gave his version of the tragedy, and then, after a talk with President Venable, surrendered to the civil authorities. Hatch, who is a youth of 17, stated that while crossing the campus in a patch of woods in semi-darkness, a crowd of students caught hold of him and he fired. He betrayed no nervousness over the affair. O'Neill's companions say they were strolling along the campus with no thought of Hatch until they came upon him. He drew his gun and then they caught hold of him in self defense. Both young men are socially prominent in their respective towns.

WHITE AND BLACK ENGAGE IN DUEL

Morrison Wounded in Hand,
While Negro Was Shot
Up Badly.

Commerce, Ga., September 25.—(Special.)—Robert Morrison, a white man, and Peter Moon, colored, engaged in a fight at Hix, in Madison county, today. Morrison was shot in the hand, and Moon was shot once in the throat, and three times in the breast.

I. F. Maxwell, a white man, who was standing near, was struck by a ball from Moon's pistol, the ball entering the point of his shoulder, breaking the collar bone and ranging downward into the body. The ball has not been located.

The negro was left lying in the grass, and may be dead.

The difficulty was the result of a trivial dispute, the life was passed, and pistol shots followed.

KUKLUX KLAN WAS BROKEN UP

Organization's Paraphernalia
Confiscated at Augusta, Georgia.

Augusta, Ga., September 25.—The police authorities today discovered a secret organization of KKK in Augusta and broke it up. Detectives found in a local job printing office literature privately printed for the organization, and on further investigation, found that a local tailoring establishment of high repute had made gowns and other regalia for the KKK. The literature and gowns were confiscated, the former being destroyed.

A number of the young men connected with the organization were arrested and placed under police bonds. It was the purpose of the KKK to make their first celebration tonight on White, the negro preacher-editor, who left the city this afternoon.

Call Is Issued for Marines.
Annapolis, Md., September 25.—Hurry orders were received at the naval academy barracks from Washington this afternoon. The exact nature of these orders could not be learned. The less important gates to the academy were ordered closed and squads sent out on the lookout for such marines as were on liberty. It is understood there will be a movement of the local marines for Cuba.

PEACE, QUIET ARE WELCOMED TO GATE CITY

From Early Morning to Early Morning There Was No
Signs of Riot.

ATLANTA PAPERS GIVING ALL NEWS ON SITUATION

Brownsville Was Raided Yesterday
Morning by Militia but Negroes
Made No Resistance—Two Negroes Killed in City by Police.

With the passing of Monday night also passed the temporary reign of terror which has been Atlanta's portion since Saturday afternoon. There was a subtle, undefined feeling which pervaded the city yesterday that told the crisis was over, and the tension under which all have labored for several days has been relaxed.

There was little that occurred yesterday calculated to disturb the most extreme alarmist. Nearly every one went about nursing the even tenor of their way, the absence of predictions of dire calamities yet to happen contributing to the growing feeling of confidence that all rioting had been put down with a firm hand, and that normal conditions would prevail.

Save for the surrounding of Brownsville at daybreak yesterday morning by the militia, and the arrest of such of the negro population of that place as was armed, and the shooting of two negroes by policemen near the corner of Randolph and Magruder streets, the day was devoid of any happening calculated to arouse excitement. The shooting of the two negroes by the police officers was merely a case of resistance to lawful authority, in no way connected with the recent happenings which have so disturbed the citizens of Atlanta.

Peace Meetings Marked Town.
The day was marked by a turn in the tide of affairs, and the successful and largely attended peace meeting at the court house yesterday afternoon developed a conviction that all cause of excitement had subsided. The cheery call of the steam whistles and factory bell, calling laborers to work this morning will be about the most agreeable sound which will greet the ears of Atlanta, the prospects being that every manufacturing concern and every business house employing labor will have every employee in his or her place when the work hour commences.

Perhaps the best index to the changed situation is that the police station is no longer inundated with alarming rumors, such as have kept the 'phones in all the offices of that trouble center busy since Saturday night. Up to an early hour this morning there were no alarming reports, and, save for the fact that the police were kept in reserve to act in any possible emergency, the police station once more was the air that it did a week ago.

Build times are in store, too, for the police force. With the closing of the Decatur street and Peter street bar room and restaurant dives, much of the police material of the city will have passed away forever.

Have Printed the Facts.
Statements to the effect that the news is being suppressed by the Atlanta papers are entirely untrue so far as The Constitution is concerned. From what could be learned by Constitution representatives no other Atlanta newspaper has suppressed any legitimate news item. As is always its custom, the Constitution is investigating carefully every piece of alleged news reported to its men. Such as are found true are printed with what degree of prominence they deserve. Since the present trouble has run its course, the Constitution has printed no news item of this nature, and none will be, but the facts have been printed in every instance and the public can depend on The Constitution to furnish the whole truth about the situation.

SECOND-HAND CLOTHING.
MEMPHIS, Ga., September 25.—(Special.)—Six hundred dollars was the penalty imposed this afternoon by Judge Charles Cripp in the city court upon Joel Bros., Hebrews, who came here recently from Jacksonville, and established a clothing store. The charge against them was selling second-hand clothing in violation of state law.

On motion of Mr. Hopkins the chair appointed a committee of five to draft resolutions expressing the sense of the meeting in regard to the outrages which had been committed, and urged that a subscription list be opened for the benefit of the members of the families of the whites and negroes alike, including the policemen, whose lives were lost by reason of the rioting which commenced last Saturday night.

On motion of Mr. Hopkins the chair appointed a committee on finance consisting of Chief W. R. Joyner, chairman; Harry Schlesinger, Louis Gholston, M. R. Emmons and George Muse to collect subscriptions for this purpose and to disburse the same collected. Mr. Hopkins headed the subscription list with $100, and in a few moments the amount had run to something over $3,000.

of Disorder.

Representative Atlanta citizens gathered 1,000 strong in the Fulton county superior court room yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock to attend the mass meeting of citizens held under the auspices of the Atlanta chamber of commerce. Merchants, manufacturers, laboring men and professional men, each class being fully represented, were present when President Sam D. Jones, of the chamber of commerce, called the meeting to order. The meeting, though called by the chamber of commerce, was too large to be held in its quarters.

Mr. Jones briefly stated the purpose of the meeting, suggesting that in his opinion the solution of the question how best to restore law and order was to cease discussing rumors and to make it possible for everybody to return to work.

Work the Best Antidote.
"Keep white and colored hard at work," said Mr. Jones, "and they'll have no time to stand around the street corners. In my opinion, the opening of the factories and workshops will do more toward the restoration of good order than any other measure."

This was the spirit of the meeting, and after Harry Schlesinger's speech urging that it was the sense of the meeting that it should be announced that this morning the factories and workshops would resume business, which has been temporarily suspended since lawless occurrences of last Saturday night, it is certain that the sound of the factory and workshop bell and whistle will notify every workman in Atlanta this morning that work has been resumed and, he may in perfect safety return to work.

Every merchant, manufacturer and employer in the large audience heartily seconded this, pledging themselves to open their shops even though the business should be conducted at a loss.

Resolutions Strongly Indorsed.
Upon motion of Charles T. Hopkins, the chairman, Sam D. Jones, appointed the following committee to draft resolutions condemning the outrages which have occurred in Atlanta since Saturday afternoon:

Clark Howell, chairman; Charles T. Hopkins, Walter G. Cooper, Robert F. Maddox and Dr. W. W. Landrum.

The committee immediately retired and later reported resolutions, which were read by Secretary Cooper and unanimously adopted.

Major John S. Cohen seconded the adoption of the resolutions reported by the committee, stating that so well did they express his sentiments, that he would be in accord with the spirit of them, that, as business manager of The Atlanta Journal, he took pleasure in subscribing $100, on the part of The Journal, to the fund being raised for the benefit of the families of the whites and negroes who had suffered at the hands of the lawless mob with which the city has contended since last Saturday afternoon.

Hon. John Temple Graves, editor of The Atlanta Georgian, also warmly seconded the adoption of the resolutions in a short but fervid and eloquent speech.

Immediately after the meeting was called to order, Chairman Jones recognized Charles T. Hopkins, who, in a ringing speech, denounced the lawless disorder which has prevailed in Atlanta since last Saturday afternoon. He was frequently interrupted by spontaneous bursts of applause.

"Up to last Saturday afternoon," said Mr. Hopkins, "this city was 'famous throughout the country as having as conservative citizens as there are in the entire country. The races were at peace with each other. Saturday night, however, put us on a plane for criminality with the most disorderly city in America. At this hour I plead with you for God's sake let us be men and put down this state of affairs."

Funds Raised for Victims.
Mr. Hopkins then moved the appointment of a committee on finance to draft resolutions expressing the sense of the meeting in regard to the outrages which had been committed, and urged that a subscription list be opened for the benefit of the members of the families of the whites and negroes alike, including the policemen, whose lives were lost by reason of the rioting which commenced last Saturday night.

On motion of Mr. Hopkins the chair appointed a committee on finance consisting of Chief W. R. Joyner, chairman; Harry Schlesinger, Louis Gholston, M. R. Mr. Hopkins headed the subscription list with $100, and in a few moments the amount had run to something over $3,000.

Industrial Atlanta Will Today
Resume Normal Conditions in Full Force.

MANUFACTURERS ASSURE EMPLOYEES PROTECTION

At Usual Hours for Beginning Work
Every Plant Begins Operations.
Will Run at Loss if Necessary Say Manufacturers.

With the rising of today's sun industrial Atlanta will resume normal conditions, every plant in the city which has been closed down will resume work, and all manufacturers request their employees to be ready to respond when the whistles blow announcing the usual hours for large forces to align themselves for beginning work.

Ample protection has been provided for those who will be at work and in addition to this the manufacturers assure their employees that with the additional precautions taken those of their families who are left at home will be in perfect safety.

While it is hoped that everywhere employees will come to work in full and that every wheel can be turned at the customary time, still, alas, manufacturers have agreed that in order to get everything just where it was before trouble started Saturday night they will begin work even if they do not have sufficiently large forces to allow them to run at a profit. In a word every industrial plant in the city is willing to lose money if by so doing it can furnish employment to those of its men who will work and induce the others to return to their everyday places of work.

To the authorities one of the worst features of the recent trouble has been the enforced closing of a number of industrial plants, thus throwing out of employment a large number of men and furnishing material for mobs should an outbreak occur.

The manufacturers are naturally very anxious to get their plants running again as they are losing both money and trade while they are idle.

Employees, however, will be fully protected and once everybody gets back to their peaceful duties it is believed that the danger of further riots will be practically eliminated.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours. A sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains the linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it, or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfilling every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or had effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best—sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, and a book that tells all about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing be sure to mention that you read this generous offer in the Atlanta Daily Constitution. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., every bottle.

MASON BEATEN BY NEGRO MOB

Marietta People Angry Over Assault Upon Officer.

Mason, En Route Home To See Sick Wife When Attacked—Old Soldier in Delirium Talks of Battles Fought in Southern Ranks.

Marietta, Ga., September 25.—(Special.) W. T. Mason, night watchman at Marietta, was assaulted by a gang of negroes here, last night.

Mr. Mason wanted home about 10 o'clock to see his sick wife. When near railway crossing, on Powder Springs street, a negro reeled in front of him, blocking his way, and other negroes hit him on the head with sticks, severely cutting his scalp, and leaving him in a helpless condition.

Mr. Mason is an ex-confederate soldier, and in his delirium today talks of the battles fought years ago in the southern ranks, and keeps saying: "Don't shoot, boys, I am old, and I don't want to cross that bayou now, boys, and I don't want to cross that bayou now, boys, and I don't want to cross that bayou now, boys."

His condition is considered very critical.

His assailants were arrested, and the assault upon Sheriff Frey in removing him from town, early this morning, all that saved them from lynching.

As men came up town this morning and learned of the assault, business was practically suspended, and if the negroes had been in town serious consequences would have probably followed.

The people's feelings were still further incensed by a negro wanted for misdemeanor trying to escape from the city marshal's grasp, and a negro named out Whitlock avenue began, shots were fired, and the negro caught, after having run about half a mile, and is now in jail.

EVERYTHING QUIET SAYS CAPT. ENGLISH.

"I have just returned from a round of the entire city and found absolutely no alarming symptoms," said Captain James W. English, chairman of the committee of ten named by the meeting of citizens, last night at midnight. "I feel sure that the worst is over and that normal conditions will be restored tomorrow."

DO YOUR MEALS FIT?

Do You Feel Snug and Comfortable Around Your Waist Line After a Hearty Meal?

Did your last meal taste deliciously good to you, and did you feel all you wanted? Could you have patted your stomach and felt proud of your appetite and your good digestion? Do you feel rosy now because your last meal gave you no inconvenience whatever? If you feel like this, your meals are in good form, and probably never realized it.

If you have the least trouble in your stomach after eating, no matter how little or how much you eat there is trouble brewing and you need a good remedy. Most all stomach troubles come from poor weak gastric juice that produces liquid which causes you to turn your food into rich, red blood.

If you have nausea, your gastric juice is weak. If you feel your things or belchings, your food is fermenting, your gastric juice is weak. If you have a bloated, full feeling, your gastric juice is weak. If you have a bloated, full feeling, your gastric juice is weak.

You need something in your stomach to supply the gastric juice which is scanty, and to give power to the weak gastric juice. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do this very thing.

Now think—on grain of one of the ingredients of these wonderful food tablets digest 2,000 grains of food. They are several times more powerful than gastric juice in a good strong, powerful stomach. They actually digest your food for you. Besides, they increase the flow of gastric juice, just what you need to get all the good possible out of every thing you eat. You will never have that "lump of lead" in your stomach nor any other stomach trouble after taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Then every thing you eat will be digested, it will give you strength, vim, energy and a rosy disposition. You'll feel good all around your waist line after every meal, and it will make you feel good all over.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will make you feel happy after eating a good, hearty meal. Take one or two after eating. You'll feel fine—then your meals will fit, no matter what or when you eat.

We want to send you a sample package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets free of charge, so you can test them yourself and be convinced. After you have tried the sample, you will be so satisfied that you will go to the nearest drug store and get a 50c box.

Send your name and address today, and we will at once send you by mail a sample package, free. Address F. A. Co., 52 Street Bldg., Marshall, N. H.

DEATH KNELL TO ALL DIVES

Council Yesterday Refused Licenses to 57 Restaurants.

Ordinance Was Adopted Prohibiting Chairs and Tables Being Placed in the Barrooms of Atlanta.

City council on yesterday afternoon sounded the death knell to negro restaurants which for years have been the loafing places of the vagrant class of negroes on Decatur street, upper Marietta street and Peters street. Fifty-seven of these places, which are said to be almost on a par with negro bar rooms as breeding places of vice and crime among the negroes, were refused licenses by council, which unanimously adopted the unfavorable report of the police committee.

Council also adopted an ordinance proposed by Alderman McEachern, which prohibits chairs and tables being kept in any bar room or saloon where spirituous or malt liquors are dispensed. A violation of this ordinance subjects the offender to a fine of $200 or imprisonment for thirty days, or both, in the discretion of the recorder, and upon conviction thereof before the recorder the proprietor of such place of business shall have his license revoked.

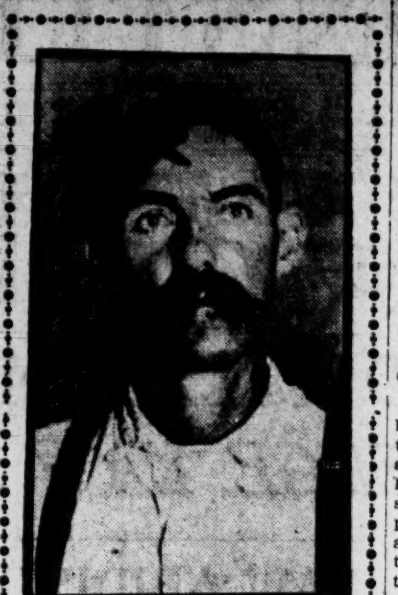

Dr. J. E. White, pastor of the Second Baptist church, addressed council, making an impassioned plea for the abolition of the Decatur and Peters streets bar rooms. Dr. White declared that such places were blots upon the civilization of Atlanta, breeders of vice and crime, and in the name of the law-abiding, respectable citizens of Atlanta, protested against the continuance of these dens of vice, declaring that the sentiment of the best people of Atlanta—the home-owning, God-fearing class—was that they must be closed, and forever; that they were prepared to exhaust every remedy which the law might afford to prevent them opening again.

At the conclusion of Dr. White's remarks, Councilman Oldknow's resolution that the police committee, Police Commissioner Woodside and the chief of police, at a special meeting of council to be held this (Wednesday) afternoon, at 3 o'clock, as to the character of business transacted by each licensed bar room in the city and which of such places should have their licenses revoked, was adopted.

Prior to the adoption of the Oldknow resolution, resolutions adopted yesterday morning by the citizens' committee, at a meeting held under the auspices of the chamber of commerce, were read. These resolutions recommended the abolishment of negro barrooms and dives as nuisances to the peace and good order of the city.

A resolution of Councilman Martin, declaring the riot and disorder which prevailed in Atlanta since Saturday afternoon, was read and adopted.

An ordinance introduced by Councilman Turner, to suspend civil service until election of forty additional policemen, was lost, Councilman Oldknow objecting to it and stating that every preparation had been made for holding the examination on October 3, and that the additional officers would be sworn in and put on duty on October 3.

NEW COMPANIES HAVE REPORTED

Four Out-of-Town Companies Relieve Atlanta Militia.

Four out-of-town military companies have been called in to Atlanta by Colonel Clifford L. Anderson, of the Fifth Georgia, in command of the military forces now patrolling the city, these troops coming to relieve the soldiers of the Atlanta regiment, who have been on duty constantly from Saturday night.

Colonel Anderson and all those at headquarters are confident that they now have the situation in much better hand than at any previous time. The quiet of the city has permitted the members of the Atlanta companies and those of the near-by towns to get some much-needed sleep, the long strain since Saturday night having exhausted many of the militia.

Most all of the soldiers who have been on duty were able to secure five hours' sleep at the armory yesterday. This was also true of the officers. This was much the longest period of rest, and for many almost the first opportunity for sleep offered since the trouble started Saturday night. As a result, the armory yesterday resembled very realistically camp life during times of war. As the returning patrol arrived at the armory after being relieved by the new companies, they were also on duty last night. These companies were as follows: Seven companies of the Fifth Georgia of Atlanta, one company from Marietta, one company from Decatur, one company from Rome and one company from Dalton. The Georgia Horse Guard and the Governor's Light Artillery of Atlanta.

Every precaution was taken by Colonel Anderson in regard to patrolling and guarding the suburbs last night. Before dark, company after company reported to Colonel Anderson at military headquarters, the Elkin-Watson drug store, and were immediately detailed to duty.

The suburbs where the citizens have seemed to feel the greatest uneasiness, was especially cared for last night. Before dark, many companies were detailed to guard and patrol duty in all of the suburban sections. These were given orders to secure any woods, vacant lots or spaces where loiterers could assemble, and after sweeping all such places clean, see that they were kept clear of all persons by the use of extended order tactics. As usual, orders were most explicit in regard to the gathering of crowds with orders for all of these to return to their homes, both black and white.

There were many petitions yesterday at military headquarters for permission to secure firearms. These petitions were denied. There were many other evidences at headquarters to prove that in the minds of those in the best position to know, the situation was now under control.

It was also stated that, in case of emergency, the men of the Seventeenth Infantry, Colonel Van Orsdale, now stationed at Fort McPherson, could be secured in a very short time. As to any appeal for federal troops, however, such action was not even considered in the light of a possibility at headquarters last night.

MEN DO NOT REALIZE GRAVITY OF RIOTING

"It Is a Felony Which May Be Punishable by Long Imprisonment," Says Police Commissioner English.

CITIZENS of Atlanta, particularly the young men of the age of 18 to 20 years, who have been indulging in riotous conduct during the past few days are probably not aware of the gravity of the offense they have committed against the law of the state," said Captain James W. English, police commissioner. "It is not merely a question of breaking a few rocks at the stockade, should some of these be detected, prosecuted and convicted for such conduct, but it may mean a long term at hard labor in the penitentiary upon conviction of this offense."

As a member of and chairman of the citizens' committee of ten to aid in restoring good order, I shall personally report to the committee any person, be he whom he may, who is guilty of rioting or inciting riot. The committee has determined that each case of this character shall be vigorously prosecuted, and the first one who comes up before the courts on such a charge will be made an example of.

"People of every age, kind, color and condition may as well realize once for all that a repetition of the disgraceful scenes which have occurred in the past few days will never again be permitted in Atlanta. At whatever cost, any attempt to indulge in or incite a riot will be dealt with firmly and rigorously."

COLLIER AND DEPUTIES ACQUITTED AFTER TRIAL

THE cases against S. G. Collier, who has been a deputy sheriff for two weeks, and D. B. Tilden, G. W. Blackstock, Eugene Butler, George Brooks, and H. L. Smith, who were indicted by the grand jury on Saturday night, charged with firing on policemen and soldiers, came up before Judge Broyles yesterday afternoon, resulting in the acquittal of the prisoners.

They were all arrested by Sergeant Howell, Officers Arthur and Hardaway, and others. While going out on a Marietta street car to Magnolia and Vine streets Saturday night, Collier, who had been instructed to patrol that district, put five young men in the car to help him, as there had been reports of serious shooting frays in that neighborhood. When they came near that vicinity, they heard a shot, and the deputy sheriff fired his rifle. The officers mistook this for attack on both them and the militia. This was brought out clearly in the court yesterday, and the cases were dismissed against all the accused parties.

PROMINENT ATLANTANS ATTEND MASS MEETING

YESTERDAY'S meeting of citizens, called by the chamber of commerce which was held in the superior court room at the court house drew together 1,000 of Atlanta's best and most representative citizens. Practically every big business house and factory in the city was represented, as were the financial institutions, and the churches. Not only this, but men from every walk of life were there to do their part in guaranteeing law and order in Atlanta from this time on. Capitalists and laboring men, manufacturers, merchants, and ministers all stood together resolved to make a determined fight for the restoration of peace.

A few of those who were seen at the meeting were: George Musgrave, Henry S. White, Dr. J. W. Heidt, F. L. Seely, John Temple Graves, John S. Cohen, Robt. Robinson, Clark Howell, A. J. McBride, Forrest Adair, Louis Gholston, Eugene R. Black, Ed. T. Brown, Walker Dunson, Gilham Morrow, John T. Huger, Major-elect W. R. Joyner, Captain W. D. Ellis, S. Y. Tupper, Hudson Moore, J. E. LAW AND ORDER PLEDGED BY THOUSAND ATLANTANS

Mr. chairman, Forrest Adair, J. W. English, John G. Murphy and A. B. Steele. This committee subsequently made a report, which was read and adopted.

No Firearms for Boys.

Captain James W. English seconded the motion of Mr. Ellis, suggesting that the citizens committee should immediately cease issuing permits for boys to purchase arms and ammunition, much of the disorder which kept the city in a turmoil being due to the youths of the city.

Dr. George S. Penn, a negro physician, who lives on Ridge avenue, pledged the support of the best classes of his race in aiding in suppressing disorder, stating that the substantial colored citizens would be glad to be directed and advised by the committee as to the course the negroes should pursue in seeking to bring about a restoration of good order. He pledged the support of the educated Christian members of his race in Fulton county in protecting white women from the crimes committed against them by the criminal negro classes.

A. J. McBride, F. L. Seely and R. F. Maddox addressed the meeting, and were listened to with close attention.

The suggestion was made that the Atlanta Journal be requested to issue extra copies of the details of the meeting, but upon Major John S. Cohen, of The Atlanta Journal, suggesting that the extras could not be printed and distributed in the residence section until a late hour, when the cry of the newspapers would alarm the citizens and cause them to apprehend that rioting had started afresh, the idea was abandoned.

Report of Safety Committee.

W. D. Ellis, Sr., as chairman of the committee appointed to suggest means for restoring good order, read the following report:

"This committee recommends the appointment, as representative of the good citizenship of Atlanta and of all its business interests, of ten citizens of good standing and repute, who have the confidence of all classes of our people and of the colored people as well, who shall be authorized to confer with the state, county and military authorities and to take part in shaping public affairs and in preventing further disorder. And we ask as citizens of Atlanta that the men so appointed be recognized, treated with respect and headed by all in authority."

"We recommend, further the closing of all bar rooms and places where liquor is sold."

"We recommend that the governor keep the military force up to a maximum until affairs are completely settled."

"We recommend the resumption of all business, and urge that it be run even at a loss."

"We recommend the assurance to all colored people, who have behaved themselves, of our intention to protect them."

"We recommend that the grand jury indict every violator of the law and that the truth be discovered if it is necessary to subpoena every man in the county."

"We recommend that every rioter and murderer be prosecuted with all the force and power of the law."

"We recommend that the governor order

SHOOTING IRONS SENT TO ATLANTA

Columbus' Supply Exhausted. Riot Reports Exaggerated.

In One South Georgia Town Where Some "Reliable" Private Information Was Received It Was Reported the Casualties Reached Six Thousand.

Columbus, Ga., September 25.—(Special.) Quite a number of express shipments of rifles, pistols and ammunition were made from Columbus to parties in Atlanta today. There was such a drain upon the local hardware stores that some of them have telegraphed for more supplies. Every Winchester rifle in the city has been sold and the majority of them sent to Atlanta. A man was in the city today, who wished to buy fifty Winchester rifles for parties in Harris county, but could not secure them.

The impression prevails generally in Columbus and throughout this section that the Atlanta newspapers are not publishing full details and the real number of persons killed and wounded. The long distance telephone as a sensational distributor has completely surpassed the modest efforts of the press. The most exaggerating reports of the Atlanta riots have been received in this section in the shape of private long distance telephone messages from that city. In one south Georgia town, where some of this "reliable" information was received, the report was current that 6,000 people had been killed in Atlanta. The citizens there telephoned to Columbus to ascertain the facts in the case.

THREW POTASH IN GIRL'S FACE

Brutal Negro at Savannah Attacks Miss Blake.

Black Caught Miss Blake's Arm as She Passed Open Window and Then Threw Powerful Chemical—Police Chasing the Negro.

Savannah, Ga., September 25.—(Special.) Screams of Miss Effie Blake, the 13-year-old daughter of George Blake, who is employed in the Savannah custom house, at 7:15 o'clock tonight drew a large crowd to her home, 39 Park avenue, west. She was found with her face seared and burned with potash, which had been thrown upon her by a negro.

Miss Blake said she had been into a rear room of her home. Turning to leave, her arm was caught by a negro, who was leaning in through a window. She had not seen him. She jerked away and screamed, whereupon he threw the powerful chemical into her face. Then the negro disappeared.

The police made every effort to capture the negro. Two were arrested, but they proved satisfactorily that they were not implicated.

The young lady is now in the care of doctors. The attack upon her created excitement in the neighborhood. It is the first attempt of the kind in Savannah for many months.

Negroes Shot at Mr. and Mrs. Walker Monday Night Wounding Mrs. Walker Slightly.

On Monday night Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Walker, with their two little babies were walking along Randolph street, between Magnitude and Houston streets, when they were fired on by a party of negroes. Mrs. Walker was wounded on the forehead above the right eye.

Immediately after the assault by the negroes, Mr. Walker, who was carrying a shot gun for protection, fired two barrels at the party. There were two negroes hit on all parts of the bodies with the shot. Officers Egan, Wiley and Williams found and arrested Will Fields, Will Williams and Abe Perkins. Two of these negroes were wounded. All were bound over for assault and attempt at murder, under $1,000 bond, by Judge Broyles.

BROWNSVILLE IS RAIDED; POLICE KILL TWO BLACKS

Seventy-Five Negroes Were Sent to Police Station by Militia From South Atlanta. ARE HELD FOR SHOOTING COUNTY OFFICERS MONDAY

257 Were First Arrested, But Others Were Released—Police Officers and Negroes Fought Battle Yesterday Morning on Randolph Street.

There were just two features to the trouble between negroes and officers of the police yesterday. The first was the raid of Brownsville by the militia and the county policemen in the morning at day-break to disarm all blacks there, and if possible secure those guilty of the attack on Officer Heard and other county policemen. The second was a fight between city officers and negroes on Randolph street yesterday morning. The afternoon was quiet.

In the raid on Brownsville 257 negroes were arrested by the authorities and searched. It was finally decided to send into the city 75 as witnesses and suspects in the case of the attack on the county policemen Monday night. In the fight between the officers and negroes on Randolph street two blacks were killed.

After hearing of the attack on the county officers Monday night militia were sent to the scene at once, but owing to the impossibility of effecting the capture of the guilty at that hour it was decided to send for reinforcements, and await the coming of daylight, in the meantime surrounding the place to prevent escapes.

Four companies and the Governor's Horse Guards started the raid at day-break. They searched all the houses for guns and ammunition, and after lining up the negroes first placed under arrest and back door. As they were about to enter they were fired on from across the street, and started in pursuit of the negroes. The two officers separated, in order to cover front and back doors. They were about to enter they were fired on from across the street, and started in pursuit of the negroes. The two officers separated, in order to cover front and back doors.

Early yesterday morning police officers were notified that there was rioting on Randolph street. Officers Maddox and Smith went to the scene of the alleged disturbance, and were informed that in a negro house near corner of McGraw and Randolph streets two negroes were firing at passing white men. The two officers separated, in order to cover front and back doors. They were about to enter they were fired on from across the street, and started in pursuit of the negroes. The two officers separated, in order to cover front and back doors.

Washington, D. C., September 25.—Colonel "Ike" Hill, of Ohio, and for thirty-five years an employee almost continuously of the house of representatives, died here today from a complication of kidney, liver and heart trouble.

For fifty years Colonel Hill was a notable figure in Ohio politics, and latterly in the politics of the nation. He enjoyed an extensive acquaintance among public men of all political affiliations, and was held in cordial regard. His quaint sayings and his remarkable fund of political reminiscences made him a genial companion, and his rugged old-fashioned adherence to the tenets of the democratic party, as declared by its national convention, endeared him to his party associates. He was an intimate personal and political friend of the late Allen Thurmond, and the late John C. Thompson, of Ohio, and under their tutelage he studied politics, and eventually made it his life work. His death will be mourned by thousands.

JEROME RETIRES FROM THE RACE

Only Object Is to Prevent Hears's Nomination.

New York Democrats Who Oppose Newspaper Man Will Concentrate Upon Either Judge Gaynor or Mayor Adam.

Buffalo, N. Y., September 25.—In a session lasting only twenty-four minutes, the democratic state convention today affected a temporary organization, and cleared the way for its actual work, beginning at 11 o'clock tomorrow forenoon. The executive committee's programme was adopted, and Lewis Nixon, former chief of Tammany hall's political organization, was elected temporary chairman. His ten-minute speech was devoted to the main to accusations against the republican state administration of issues of $10,000,000 appropriated for reconstruction of the state canals and of betrayal of labor, and closed with an appeal for harmony, which he predicted would ensure victory at the approaching elections and lead to the overthrow of the republican domination of national affairs.

District Attorney Jerome's candidacy for governor was practically withdrawn today at an adjourned meeting of anti-Hearst democrats. At the meeting, which extended outside the hall, it was decided that the delegates opposed to the nomination of William Randolph Hearst should concentrate on either Judge Gaynor or Mayor Adam as expediency may require.

Mr. Jerome, John N. Carlyle, of Watertown, secretary of the democratic state committee, and ex-Mayor Osborne, of Auburn, were appointed a committee to go among the delegates and ascertain the sentiment and report.

Mr. Jerome would make no statement after the meeting. He has let it be generally understood during the past few days that his object in entering the race was for the purpose of defeating the nomination of Hearst. Any combination that could accomplish this would be satisfactory to him. Representative Sulzer claims he had 141 votes outside of Greater New York, who will stick to him throughout. He says that even if he does not get the New York county votes, but obtains those from Kings and Queens, he will have a total of 237, or eleven more than necessary.

Mr. Sulzer said that he has from Charles F. Murphy is that some time before to the session of the convention, and the city will be held at the Municipal conference tomorrow. "Mr. Murphy is very friendly to me," he said.

He also asserts that Jerome, McClellan and Adam are all working for him as the one man who can beat Hearst.

PALMA HAS QUIT AS PRESIDENT

ings. There were comparatively few callers, but there was a constant interchange of cablegrams with Oyster Bay over a direct wire from the legation to the cable office.

ELECTIONS WERE ROTTEN SAYS SECRETARY TAFT

Havana, September 25.—At the close of a meeting of fifty of the moderate leaders, held this afternoon, it was announced that President Palma, Vice President Mendez Capote and the moderate senators and representatives would all resign their offices and that probably President Palma would call congress tomorrow and place the resignations in its hands.

Secretary Taft and Secretary Bacon had previously stated this afternoon that they were thoroughly disgusted with the petty methods of the government leadership here and the American commissions admitted that they had practically abandoned hope of bringing peace from the turmoil unless by the use of force.

President Palma declined the request this evening for an interview. It is known, however, that he contemplates a special session of congress to which he will send the resignation of himself and Mendez Capote.

The government officials concede that intervention is at hand. They appear perfectly satisfied with that course and against delivering the government of the island to their adversaries.

Mendez Capote has been directed to advise Messrs. Taft and Bacon that the moderates refuse the proffered terms.

In the meantime it was stated here that the battle ships Indiana, Kentucky and Texas and the cruiser Yankee had been ordered to Havana and with them several thousand marines.

Secretary Taft said today: "The government officials instead of cooperating with us to save the republic, have resorted to every kind of obstruction, though in the form of a compromise with their opponents. We are still striving to arrange a settlement. We are still doing everything possible to accomplish a settlement without resorting to force. I cannot say that we are heartily for I have never known a more disgusting situation. Investigation convinces us that the elections were thoroughly rotten. We do not want to intervene, but the conditions may necessitate. Our reports show that the insurgent commanders have lost control of their forces. The situation seems to demand the use of force. The commissioners have decided not to keep their engagements to revisit President Palma because of his attitude today."

Battleships Ordered to Cuba.

Provincetown, Mass., September 25.—The battle ships Indiana and Kentucky, of the north Atlantic fleet, receiving orders from the navy department at Washington today to proceed to Cuba, tomorrow morning. In the meantime every marine who can be spared from the vessel will be taken on board the two ships.

NASHVILLE GREETED WILLIAM J. BRYAN

Hats, Handkerchiefs and Even Coats Were Waved.

6,000 People Listened to the Commoner Exhortations Upon the Vital Issues of the Day, and More Particularly Railroad Ownership Problem.

Nashville, Tenn., September 25.—William J. Bryan arrived here from Memphis at 9:30 o'clock this evening, over an hour late. He was met by a large committee of distinguished citizens and a very large crowd of citizens. Owing to the delay in his arrival, he was not taken to a hotel, but drove directly to the Ryman auditorium, where the speaking was held. Six thousand people taking the full capacity of the auditorium greeted him. The crowd was in sympathy with his ideas was fully shown by the applause which greeted his periods, but there was not the same warmth of endorsement given his government ownership ideas as to other portions of his speech. His appearance was the signal for one of the greatest demonstrations ever seen in a political occasion in Nashville. Mr. Bryan entered the auditorium accompanied by Chairman of the State Committee Henry B. Morrow, Governor Robert L. Taylor, and Senator Francis T. Bland, played "The Star Spangled Banner," the tremendous audience standing and cheering till the building fairly shook.

Hat, handkerchiefs and even coats were waved as the Nebraska senator served making his way to the stage. Mr. Bryan was introduced by National Committeeman R. E. L. Mountcastle, who referred to him as the greatest private citizen in the world, and the next standard bearer of the democratic party. Speaking of the failure of the Tennessee democratic state convention to endorse him, Mr. Bryan said:

"I have not asked a convention to endorse me. I do not know that two years from now it will be wise for any convention to endorse me."

Mr. Bryan explained somewhat in detail his position on the railroad government ownership question, his remarks being in effect the same as those made at other points in the south. Mr. Bryan left immediately after closing his speech taking train for Omaha and Lincoln, Neb.

Have Responded Cheerfully.

"I am happy to say," continued Colonel Clifford L. Anderson, who is in command of the military forces, "that the men have not only responded cheerfully, but they have proved as efficient in every work detailed to them as could possibly be. I have every reason to be proud of the work done by the men of my own regiment and I wish to particularly commend the work accomplished by the soldiers outside of Atlanta, which so quickly and so generously responded to the call for troops."

"Their work has been splendid. In fact, I feel I am only stating what is absolutely true when I say that I don't believe their work could be improved on. The work has been long and exhausting because of the large territory which had to be covered. But with every request for men for extra duty, many more responded than were needed. As for the conduct of all the troops, it has simply been perfect and while I have heard thousands of comments on their soldierly behavior and their accomplishments for the good of Atlanta, I have yet to listen to the first word of unkind criticism."

"All Atlanta, and Georgians have every reason to be proud of their soldiers," interrupted Mayor Woodward, "and I especially want to add my thanks and my appreciation for the work of the entire militia. But especially I want to take this opportunity of thanking every one of the members of the companies from out of town who responded so immediately to Atlanta's needs. They have been working day and night, working often without meals, or regular sleep, and they have saved the lives and property of citizens a hundred miles from their own homes. I have stopped to talk with these boys again and again. I have questioned them and I have watched them receive orders and carry them out."

"I have yet to see one man who did not respond instantly and cheerfully, no matter how unpleasant or how dangerous the carrying out of their orders might be. You may be sure that Atlanta and Atlantians will not forget these friends who responded so nobly in times of need. And I want to say that while there has been much talk of trouble these past few days, the citizenry have been a unit on the work of the militia. The situation is now under perfect control, and there is no estimating the responsibility of the soldiers, both officers and the men of the line for this happy state of affairs. Now that the trouble seems to be over, it is quite true that we recognize the work of those who have accomplished so much in our behalf, especially those troops who have left their own homes to rush to protect the lives and property of Atlantians, perhaps a hundred miles away."

Has Awakened Real Enthusiasm.

"There is no mistaking the fact that the fine showing of the soldiers, and particularly that of the visiting companies, has awakened real enthusiasm in the hearts of all Atlantians. Their every appearance on the streets has been the occasion of genuine and sincere cheering. Many times, particularly lately, these tired, sleepy men have come marching through the city with the every appearance of veterans. Sometimes it was to return from a night of patrol and equal duty or at other times it was to respond to some order for a "hyke" to some reported district, where trouble was brewing. In every event, the soldiers acquired themselves in the finest manner possible."

But lately returned from camp at Chickamauga, the work of the soldiers showed to especially good advantage. Last night the chilly fall winds blew, and as the troops left military headquarters in their heavy army overcoats in heavy marching order, their rubber ponchos strapped behind, they made as fine an appearance in the way of defenders as could be secured even in times of real war.

TENDERED AUTOS TO POLICE.

Alfred Austell and L. E. Fain Aided Police Last Night in Answering Calls.

Alfred Austell and L. E. Fain tendered their services and their autos to the police department last night. From 6 o'clock in the afternoon until late at night both machines were constantly making tours over the city investigating different calls to see if they amounted to anything.

Several trips were made through the south side of the city and the same on the north side. These trips created some little excitement on the part of the citizens scattered throughout the city. On calling up the police station, however, everyone learned the correct status of things, and no further trouble was experienced in this matter. Except the automobiles made a trip they were packed with officers armed to teeth, ready to put down any riot that might have been created. Mr. Austell and Mr. Fain remained in the station sergeant's office during the night, and whenever any call was needed any attention came, they took anywhere from five to seven policemen with them.

Circulation.

(From Exchange.)

A teacher in a small school in Camden was giving a lesson on the circulation of the blood. Trying to make it clearer, she said:

"Now, children, if I stood on my head the blood, as you know, would run into it, and I should turn red in the face."

"Now, Jimmy," continued the teacher, addressing a small boy, "what I want to know is this: How is it that while I am standing upright in the ordinary position the blood does not run into my feet and turn them red?"

"Why, because yer feet ain't empty."

ONLY WORDS OF PRAISE FOR THE BOYS IN KHAKI

Untiring in Their Efforts to Preserve Peace, the Militia Have Won the Hearts of Atlantans.

"THE work of the militia, both the Atlanta companies and those from towns and cities outside of Atlanta, simply could not have been better. Atlanta owes much to all these boys in khaki, and my word for it, their work during these last few days will not be forgotten by the citizens."

This expression from Mayor James G. Woodward, who has been on the streets from the start of the trouble and is in a position to appreciate the good work done, voices the sentiment of citizens on the part of the Atlanta companies and throughout the city. But where the one powder would blow the victim into innocuous desuetude on the poppy waving breezes of Morpheus, the other powder would send the victim much more strenuously to the same state with probably much greater dramatic effect.

As for the out-of-town companies, Captain Wright, of the combination company from Lindale and Rome; Captain Morris, of the Marietta company; Captain Traywick, of Cedartown; Captain McKibben, of the Jackson company; Captain Anderson, of the Madison company; Captain Hunter, of the Elberton company; Captain Beck, of the Griffin company; Captain Nash, of the Barnesville company; Captain Capps, of the Athens company, were all generally complimented at headquarters on the fine showing and accomplishments of their men.

The Candle Guard Guards, dismounted, Captain Pilgrim, of Gainesville, arrived late last night in time to do effective service.

And among those who were seated on the boxes and every available inch of space in the prescription department, which was so quickly volunteered by Dr. Elkin because of its central location, were Adjutant Smith, Major Fomero, Sergeant Major, Langford and others, while Colonel Nash, Colonel Harry Silverman, Colonel Scott and all of the officers of the Atlanta and out-of-town companies were constantly hurrying into and out from this department.

And a remarkable department it was of both physicians' prescriptions and military orders, both of which ran smoothly because of the perfect system operating such, an which bore out the fact that both the Elkin-Watson drug store and military headquarters sure stayed awake all night that the rest of Atlanta might sleep in perfect peace and safety.

STRUCK BY TRAIN AND KILLED.

George Smith Was Delivering Mail When Accident Occurred.

Olive, Ga., September 25.—(Special.)—George Smith of this place was killed here on the track of the Central of Georgia railroad by an engine belonging to J. J. MacDonald. He delivered mail over the town of Olive, and was gathering the mail for the Savannah train when struck by the engine, which was running at the rate of 25 or 30 miles per hour. Smith is survived by a wife and sister who live in England.

A Friend in Need—Always with You.

WHEN you have Heartburn, Colic, Coated Tongue, Suspected Bile, Acid-rising in throat, Gas-belching, or an Incipient Cold, take a Cascaret.

Remember, all these are not merely Discomforts, but indications of a serious Cause.

Nip them in the bud—eat a Candy Cascaret. Cascarets don't purge, nor punish the stomach like "Bile-driving" "Physics."

They act like Exercise on the Bowels. Muscles that propel Food, and that squeeze the natural Digestive Juices of the body into Food.

Cascarets ward off, or cure, the following diseases:

Constipation, Bile-accumulation, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Appendicitis, Colic, Worms, Piles.

Bad Breath, Headache, Diarrhea, Flatulence, Jaundice, Nausea, Vertigo, Bloating.

In such cases a little Cascaret in time is worth fifty dollars worth of treatment later on, to say nothing of the suffering, discomfort, loss of Business Energy, and Social Sunshine it saves.

Headaches, Heartburn, Gas-belching, Acid-rising in the throat, and Colicky feeling are sure signs of bowel trouble from food poisons, and should be dealt with promptly.

One Cascaret will stop the looming trouble, and move on the Bowel load, if taken at the first signs.

Don't fail to carry the Vest Pocket Box of Cascarets with you constantly.

All druggists sell them—over ten million boxes a year.

GREETED BRYAN IN HEAVY RAIN

Great Reception Tendered the Commoner in Memphis.

He Spoke on Tariff Reforms and Also Rehearsed His Opinions on the Railroad Ownership Problem—Mr. and Mrs. Bryan
Left for Little Rock.

Memphis, September 25.—William J. Bryan, accompanied by Mrs. Bryan, arrived here at an early hour this morning from New Orleans. The visitors were met at the railroad station by a reception committee and were escorted to a hotel for a few hours' rest. Despite a downpour of rain a large crowd greeted Mr. Bryan. It had originally been planned to have Mr. Bryan deliver an address at the baseball park, but on account of the inclement weather the Lyceum theater was used for this purpose. At 10 o'clock the committee escorted Mr. Bryan to the theater, which was packed with people. Mr. Bryan was given a rousing reception when he appeared upon the stage. He was introduced by Hon. William H. Carroll.

In his speech Mr. Bryan said he had carefully read the address delivered by Secretary Shaw in Memphis several days ago.

He said that the republican leaders need not be afraid of the tariff reform demands being made. He said if the opponents of the tariff succumbed in getting in office, he believed the tariff would be revised, but not enough to do the country harm.

The speaker said his position on government ownership had been greatly magnified, and said that if the recent ratio bill did not have the desired effect after government ownership of the railroads, a thorough trial, then he advocated the ownership of the railroads by the people.

Mr. Bryan left shortly after noon for Nashville, where he will speak tonight. He will then visit Little Rock and Oklahoma.

EXPECT FLEEING NEGROES.

New York Blacks Will Not Welcome
Worthless Atlanta Negroes.

New York, September 25.—Negro ministers in attendance yesterday at the meeting in Manhattan and Brooklyn of the anti-segregation association, expressed apprehension that the Atlanta trouble may result in many negroes of Atlanta and vicinity immigrating to this city, such as occurred during the race riot at Wilmington, N. C. With the thrifty and reputable, came the lazy and worthless, who prove a source of much trouble to the better class of negroes here.

ACCUSERS ANSWERED BY SENATOR BAILEY

Texan Defends His Record and Explains His Employment by Corporations.

MALEVOLENT CAMPAIGN,
SAYS SENATOR BAILEY

He Says the Attacks Are Being Made by a Coterie of Disseminated Politicians—He Tells of His Employment by Waters-Pierce Company.

Dallas, Texas, September 25.—The following statement was made public tonight by Senator Joseph W. Bailey, in reply to criticisms of him and his record which have been circulated during the past few days:

"The democrats of Texas have not forgotten exactly this same kind of a fight on me when I was first elected to the senate six years ago. After I had won the senatorship in a fair contest before the people, a coterie of dissatisfied politicians made a desperate attempt to defeat my election by the legislature. The present agitation was largely inaugurated by the same men, with some outside assistance, and is predicated upon exactly the same transactions. My candidacy for re-election to the senate was submitted to a direct ballot by the democrats of Texas, and I received within two thousand votes of the number cast for four of the candidates for governor, notwithstanding the general appeal made by some of the men now promoting this movement to the voters to scratch my name."

"It was in this state engaged in a canvass before the people for nearly four weeks immediately preceding the primary election, and yet no man challenged a discussion of my record. Between the primary election and the meeting of the state convention, I was still defending the principles of the democratic party while my traducers were silent. After waiting until the people had spoken in the primary capacity and their judgment had been reiterated by the state convention, these men now appeal to the legislature to overturn the decision of the democratic voters. They do not expect to prevent my reelection or to discredit me in Texas, where all of our friends find circumstances known; but they hope to injure me in the estimation of the country at large and to impair my usefulness in the senate."

Senator Bailey charges malevolence. "The first step in this campaign of malevolence and detraction was to have a purported interview with the Hon. Roger Sullivan, of Illinois, assailing me, sent broadcast over the country. Mr. Sullivan promptly denounced that interview as a falsehood made out of the whole cloth. The next step was to circulate the story that the Tennessee properties, for which I am the attorney, belong to the Standard Oil Company; and they sought to impose this falsehood upon the fair-minded and justice-loving democrats of Texas. Some of the men who are circulating that story know, and all of them could have learned with very little inquiry, that the Standard Oil Company had no interest in or connection with these properties, and that they were owned by H. C. Pierce, J. C. Van Blarcom, W. H. Thompson and many other leading business men of St. Louis. The municipality of Nashville itself, in order to provide for people additional and competing railroad facilities, had subscribed for $1,000,000 of the stock of the railroad. The vice president of the railroad was Mr. Goltra, who is not only a prominent business man of St. Louis, but is a close personal and political friend of Mr. Bryan. In fact, Mr. Goltra entertained Mr. Bryan on his yacht in the harbor of New York while Mr. Bryan was waiting for the great reception which was tendered him there on the 20th of August.

"The railroad had passed through one receivership, and was on the verge of another when I was called into the case. I accepted the employment, and performed exactly the same kind of service that would have been expected of any other reputable lawyer. The statement, so industriously circulated by some, that I put $13,000,000 worth of securities in my pocket, to do with them as I pleased, is little less than ridiculous."

Senator Bailey had no securities.

"I did not have $13 worth of securities in my pockets. Every dollar's worth of the bonds of that railroad company were pledged for its indebtedness, and it was my task to prevent those who held them from enforcing their liens and sacrifice the securities at a forced sale. That succeeded in doing this is a matter of great satisfaction to me, as it was to my clients. I not only managed the properties committed to my charge in a way to save my clients a large sum of money, but I also managed it in a way that gave to the city of Nashville three important and competing railroad systems, where before it had suffered in the grasp of one, and the people of that city testified their approval of the disposition which I made of the railroad by public meetings and speeches. It would be difficult to convince them that I had delivered them over to the spoilation of a single man."

"The third step in the process was to pretend that the testimony given by Mr. Pierce disclosed a secret employment of me in connection with those properties. Some of the very men engaged in this movement have been complaining for months that I was the attorney of these very properties, and they knew all about it a year ago. The employment was a perfectly proper one, and such as any reputable lawyer would have accepted without the slightest hesitation. Not only that, but the newspapers of this state, together with those of St. Louis and Nashville, contained repeated references to those properties and to my connection with them."

"When I first went to Nashville to look over the properties, the newspapers of that city contained extended notices of my presence there, and of the purpose which had brought me. During that summer and fall I was called to St. Louis four or five different times, and on each occasion the St. Louis papers made mention of the fact that I was there to confer with those interested in the Tennessee properties."

"The Texas papers contained statements of the same kind, as appears by the following item in The Dallas News of July 8, 1905:

"Nashville, Tenn., July 7.—Senator J.

W. Bailey, of Texas, is spending a few days in Nashville, and today stated that he was here representing the syndicate of St. Louis and New York capitalists which owns the Tennessee Central railroad. The St. Louis parties interested in the syndicate are: H. C. Pierce, of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company; D. R. Francis, Adolphus Busch, J. C. Van Blarcom and other members of the St. Louis Low Cabin Club. Senator Bailey stated tonight that he was representing the syndicate in a legal capacity, and was here to make recommendations on things necessary in the Tennessee Central. He is in company with H. C. Pierce, J. C. Van Blarcom and announced that the Tennessee Central would liquidate all its indebtedness, rebuild its present lines, of which there are 365 miles, and extend the several branches to about 350 miles of new road. Senator Bailey will go from Nashville to New York to attend a meeting of the stockholders, at which money will be appropriated for the improvements he recommends."

No Attempt to Conceal.

"There never was the least attempt to conceal my attorneyship for those properties, nor was there the least reason why it should be concealed. The objection of my employment as the attorney of those properties must proceed upon the theory that a man in public office has no right to pursue any private business; and such a doctrine, if applied to all men and all offices, would reduce the public life of this country to a point where only rich men or rascals could afford to accept an office. If I had found that my time and strength would not permit to serve as a senator and to practice law at the same time, I would have abandoned the law without the slightest hesitation, because I have always believed, and acted upon the belief, that the public service holds the highest claim upon every man who undertakes it; or, if I had found that there was any conflict between my duty to my clients and my duty to my constituents, I would have declined all employment as a lawyer, because I would not suffer myself placed in any position where my duties might come in conflict with the duties of my office. But neither has been true in my experience."

"The Congressional Record will show that I have been as constant in my attendance upon the sessions of the house as any man in congress, and that during the years in congress as any man who has served with me through that period. Certainly that establishes beyond the shadow of a doubt that I have not neglected my public duties in the pursuit of my private business. The Congressional Record will also show that during my fifteen years—first in the house and then in the senate—I have spoken and voted on every important question, and my record in the senate cannot point to a single speech or vote in the interest of my clients and against the interest of my constituents. Certainly no man could ask for a higher proof than this that my private business has not influenced my official conduct."

"Although I have been pursued with a bitterness unparalleled in the political history of this state, the most reckless and malicious of my enemies has never ventured to tell the people of Texas where I have betrayed their interest by speech or vote, nor instanced a single case where my employment as a lawyer related in the remotest degree to the legislation of congress or to the action of any department of the government. Their whole argument is that, because I am in public service, I shall not be permitted to pursue my honorable profession in a perfectly legitimate way."

"I shall continue to give—as for fifteen years I have given—an unselfish and undivided attention to my public duties while they require attention; and I shall continue to give—as I have given—time to private business when my time is not required by my public duties."

As Lawyer and Senator.

"I have never had a client in my life who has attempted to influence my official action, and the men who employ me about their important affairs have too much confidence in my integrity to suppose for one moment that they could control or influence me as a senator. Of course, I know there are men of low character and intellect who would slavishly do the bidding of any man or corporation who might employ their services and pay them a fee, but such men seldom obtain important employment as lawyers, and such men can never secure election as a senator from the state of Texas."

"The upright and high-minded lawyer gives to his clients the best of his legal learning and ability, but no more than that, and he would drive from his presence any client who presumed to think that in retaining him as a lawyer he had secured the right to command him in respect to any matter outside of the legal controversy. Since the foundation of this republic the greatest senators whose reputations as lawyers could command clients, have practiced their profession with propriety and without criticism. Some great lawyers have not practiced law while in the public service, because they have been men of independent means and did not feel under the necessity of providing for their family and their old age by pursuing still their professions, but the wisest and the best of thought have thought it improper or unpatriotic to attend to their private business in their own time."

Houston Good Government Club.

"I have carefully read the circular issued by the Good Government Club of Houston, and I was impressed when reading it with the striking similarity between it and the Cosmopolitan Magazine article. In fact, it appears to be a special effort to justify that scurrilous and infamous attack upon me. It would seem that when men set themselves up as exemplars of good government and living, they would be scrupulously careful to tell the truth, and to do so justly in any way, but I have seldom seen a formal document which contained more gross misrepresentations than are in that circular. In the first place, extracts from it were telegraphed over the country with a false statement of the membership of the club. In the communication sent from Houston to The St. Louis Republic and printed in that paper of September 21, the organization is described as 'The Harris County Good Government Club, of which H. F. Ring is the president.' I am president of the 'Of course it might be that the statement as to the membership of that club was a falsehood of The St. Louis Republic reporter; but as exactly the same misstatement appeared in The New York American, those who understand how such articles are circulated have a right to believe that the men who are responsible for the publication are also responsible for that falsehood. After stating the membership of the club as 'Houston and The St. Louis Republic of Friday,' it was stated in The Dallas News the next day, and in Friday's News a very accurate and talented staff correspondent declared that the officers of that organization declined to give either the number or the names of its members. My own judgment is that its membership is very small, because I do not believe there are many people in Houston who would become parties to the falsehoods which it is attempting to disseminate.

The Kirby Fee.

"The first criticism against my business dealings is with reference to my attorneyship for the Hon. John H. Kirby, and the Kirby Lumber Company, which is in substance merely a restatement of the same matter from the Cosmopolitan Magazine. The Cosmopolitan Magazine article did not, however, as I now recall it, include the statement, now made for the first time in this circular, that I helped Mr. Kirby sell an 'east Texas railroad' to the Santa Fe system."

"This is an admission, and it seems strange that such an admission should have been made by any man at Houston because of all the Houston people who know anything about Mr. Kirby's affairs, know that the railroad which he built and sold to the Santa Fe system was built and sold years before I had any business relations whatever with Mr. Kirby. So far from having helped Mr. Kirby sell anything to the Santa Fe system, no employment of mine has ever brought me in contact with the officers of that railroad. I do not even know the president of it, and I have never discussed a business proposition of any kind with any officer, agent or attorney of it."

"The next statement is that Mr. Kirby, instead of going himself to Harrison or Ryan or to any other great railroad operator, employed me to do so. That is a falsehood, pure and simple. I never saw Mr. Harrison in my life, and I have never discussed a business proposition with Mr. Ryan. I did not go to Mr. Harrison and Mr. Ryan to sell Mr. Kirby's property, nor did I go to any other Wall Street financier."

"It is, however, unnecessary to occupy space in pointing out the various falsehoods of this circular, because the attack is based entirely upon my speech delivered in the senate on the 27th of June. As that speech was printed in full by some, and in extended synopsis by all of the daily papers in Texas thirty days before the democratic primaries, and the voters of this state were fully advised of what I had said and done when they renominated me, it would seem a waste of time to enter into an argument with these creatures on that point. Not only was that speech before the voters when they nominated me at their primaries, but it was before the delegates to the state convention, who repeated the people's endorsement, and to contend that it disqualified me for a seat in the senate is to insult the patriotism, intelligence and integrity of the voters of Texas."

Bailey and Texas.

"I have given to the service of the people of Texas fifteen of my best years of life, and in all that long time I have been actuated by the single purpose of promoting their happiness and welfare. I would like to continue in their confidence and affection; but I will not refuse even them to deny me the right to provide in my own time and in a proper way for myself and my family in my old age. Wholly apart from the question of a competence, I will never admit that I am so weak in character that I dare not pursue an honorable profession out of a fear that I will thus be led to sacrifice the public interest. God pity my country if it is to be governed by men so selfish and infirm that they cannot trust themselves to pursue their private business without betraying the public interest. With a congress composed of men like that, those who seek to utilize the power of the government to increase their private fortunes, would find an easy way to corrupt our representatives and prey upon the people."

Bailey and the Oil Company.

"There is, however, one other part of the circular to which I will make reply, and a most conclusive one. They insinuate that when the Waters-Pierce Oil Company was granted a permit to transport its business in Texas, I knew that it was not an 'independent concern.' I stated on oath before the legislative committee what had been said to me on that subject, and I do not deem it necessary to call any witness to prove the truth of what I have said. But, in order to prove the falsity of what these men now say, I will print this letter from Mr. Pierce which I found in my mail when I reached Gainesville Saturday night."

TO INVESTIGATE

CASE OF PRICE

If Guilty, Negro Postmaster Will Lose His Position.

Washington, D. C., September 25.—The postoffice department has taken cognizance of the case of J. E. Price, the negro in charge of the station in South Atlanta, who it is reported, has been arrested charged with supplying ammunition to the blacks.

An investigation now is under way, and if it be true, as alleged, that Price has been taken into custody on the grounds stated, and is convicted, he will be dismissed from the service of the government.

The practice of the department universally has been that employees committing offenses involving arrest and conviction are removed from their positions. A report has been asked for from the postmaster in Atlanta, and until it is received no action with regard to Price will be taken.

Lift the Rock.

Many a man and woman has yet to find the hidden flavor and value of Postum Food Coffee because it was served before being boiled long enough.

When Father, Mother, Sister or Brother feels the hurt of coffee and seeks to be well again and able to do things in this world, do your share Mr. or Mrs. Cook and see that the Postum is made right, and that's easy. Either put it in the pot and let it soak over night and then boil 10 or 12 minutes, or put it on fresh, a piece of butter the size of a pea in the pot to keep it from boiling over and then let it actually boil at the bubbling point for 15 minutes. Then you have Postum and not the common weak stuff too often prepared by a careless cook.

You, man, who have been poorly served, read this to your "wimmen folks" and ask for a Square Deal. If coffee congests your liver, ruins nerves and stomach and handicaps you in the race of life, quit it entirely and start on Postum.

The little stored-away elements that nature uses for the sure rebuilding of the lost gray matter in the nerve cells are in Postum.

New York Financier Cannot Account for Attack on His Life.

New York, September 25.—Jacob Schiff, of the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., was informed last night at his country home that secret service in Philadelphia had seized a bomb in that city, wrapped in paper, addressed to him in New York. Mr. Schiff said he could not think for what reason any person would wish to take his life.

"This is the second infernal machine that has been addressed to me," he said. "I cannot understand it at all. What possible reason could any one wishing to assassinate me have? I have done no hurt to any one that I know of."

A previous attempt on Mr. Schiff's life was made on August 18, last year, when a cylinder packed in inflammable cotton and with gun powder was sent to his New York office. A clerk, who regarded the package as suspicious, soaked it in water before opening it. No sender of the bomb was ever discovered.

GORDON DENIES FORGERY CHARGE

Former Bank Cashier Was Taken Back to Telfair County.

Albany, Ga., September 25.—(Special.)—R. R. Gordon, arrested as the result of good work by the local police department, has been sent back to Telfair county to answer to charges of cheating and swindling, and if what is charged against him there and in the county proves true, he will have a hard time with the authorities before they are through with him.

Gordon has been operating here for several weeks. Sheriff Dowdy, of Telfair county, who came to Albany after Gordon states that all are clamoring for an opportunity to prosecute.

Gordon posed as the representative of a building and loan association which had headquarters in New York. Most of his patrons here were negroes in good circumstances, who filed applications for loans in amounts ranging from $500 to $3,000. In each case Gordon collected a fee of 3 per cent of the amount to be borrowed by the applicant. The loan was to be made without other security than the borrower's promise to pay, and the money was to be forthcoming within ninety days.

In Telfair county none of the applications were ever "favorably considered" at the "home office," and those who had paid their money here, now feel that they, too, have been film-flamed. Gordon put on a bold front when arrested. He declares that at the proper time he will prove that he has done nothing for which he can be held criminally liable.

Producing Steel From Sand.

Portland, Ore., September 25.—As a result of experiments being tried by the government at the old Lewis and Clark fair grounds in this city, Bessemer steel has been reduced from the ordinary black sands found at the mouth of the Columbia river. Whether this reduction can be carried on on a profitable basis has not yet been determined.

BANK WRECKER LEAVES NEW YORK

No Effort Made to Fight Extradition.

Stensland Insists He Did Not Profit
by Chicago Institution's Losses.
Declares Cashier Hering Got
It All—Prisoner Is Sick.

New York, September 25.—The discomfort of a night in a narrow and bedless cell which was experienced by Paul O. Stensland, the former president of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank, of Chicago, who was returned from Joliet last night a prisoner on the charge of wrecking the institution, was followed today by additional unpleasant details of police examination. Stensland was lined up at police headquarters with a score of alleged pickpockets and others who had been arrested during the night and was subjected to the customary examination by the detective sergeant. This ordeal over, he was removed to the identification bureau, where he was measured in accordance with the Bertillon system and later his photograph was taken, to be on file at police headquarters. An early visitor to Stensland's cell was his son Theodore. The former bank president spent a sleepless night and was very nervous.

He leaned heavily on the support of his son while going to and from the various offices.

Stensland made a statement to Police Inspector McLaughlin today. Trembling with emotion and with tears falling down his cheeks, the ex-bank president said: "I made some bad investments and they did not act as quickly as I thought they would. They were not paying. The man under me—the cashier, I mean—took advantage of the situation and he got more than I. All I got was $500,000, but I don't know what the other man got. The money I went away with was a few thousand dollars that I made in a real estate speculation last summer. I had been always in hope of paying the money back, but I suppose that the other man, suffering from asthma and I want to get back to Chicago just as quickly as possible."

Stensland and party left for Chicago at 3:30 p. m. on the Twentieth Century limited, which is due in Chicago at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow.

300 MILLIONS OWED ABROAD.

United States Financier Borrowed Heavily on Outside.

New York, September 25.—The Journal of Commerce today states that, in view of the money stringency, considerable attention is being devoted in Wall street to our heavy borrowings abroad, particularly since large amounts of finance bills fall due in October. The total amount of these held in Europe is variously estimated at between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000, an aggregate of about one hundred millions larger than the normal at this time of the year. Stock market operators explain the debt we have piled up abroad by their large deals.

Most of the ninety-day bills carry the option of renewal at their maturity, which practically means that they are six months. It is stated that foreign banks like to loan on American collateral, the English banks in particular doing a large business of this character.

The Bank of England, of course, can exercise influence upon the joint stock banks by raising rates, but if our operators are willing to pay the price, there is no danger of a crisis arising through demand for payment.

COUNTY FAIR IS ON AT CORNELIA

Opening Day Was Given Up to Educational Discussions.

Cornelia, Ga., September 25.—(Special.)—The Habersham county fair opened this morning under favorable auspices by President John Martin, of Clarksville, and Secretary Rev. W. S. Robinson.

After an able address by the president, President Campbell, of Piedmont college, Demorest, Commissioner C. V. Garnet and State Commissioner W. B. Merritt gave rousing speeches along educational lines. Our whole county has been inspired to greater efforts in behalf of education. Piedmont students came in a body and it was a beautiful sight to see so many fine young ladies and young men.

The young ladies in Piedmont gave a fine exhibit in physical culture. There were also contests in recitations and declamations. Three young ladies entered the contest—Miss Marjory Ford, of Piedmont; Miss Julia Green, of Turnerville, and Miss Eva Burns, of Cornelia Normal Institute. The recitations were pronounced by Commissioner Merritt to be very excellent. The decisions were given to Miss Burns.

In the declamatory contest only two entries, Leroy Suddath, of Cornelia, and Charles Fishman, of Demorest. Mr. Suddath was awarded the honor. This has been a great day for education in old Habersham.

BLACK PIGMY ATTACKS KEEPER

African Freak Fights Attendant, Stabbing Him With Knife.

New York, September 25.—Otto Benga, the African pigmy, who has been exhibited at the New York zoological garden for some time past, tried to kill a keeper yesterday with a knife. He fought furiously before being disarmed. Benga's anger was caused by the keeper turning him loose on his exhibit.

Benga has been exhibited in the monkey cage. He has attracted wide attention because of the protest of several negro societies because of the exhibition.

1,500 MAYORS WILL ATTEND.

League of Municipalities To Begin Sessions Wednesday.

Chicago, September 25.—The tenth annual convention of the American League of Municipalities, which opens tomorrow at the Auditorium, promises to be the largest in the history of the organization. President J. G. Riehl, mayor of Charleston, yesterday declared that this meeting would eclipse all previous ones. "We will have 1,500 delegates with their wives," and the head of the league, "and this will mean the greatest convention of the kind ever held. The mayors and other kind officials of the United States and Canada have taken a deeper interest in the coming meeting than ever before. This is shown by the early arrival of hundreds of the delegates. The convention will continue through Friday."

MANY DYING FROM FRIGHT.

Russian Functionaries Succumbing to Nervous Terror.

New York, September 25.—A special to The Times from Paris states that in a letter from St. Petersburg, Professor Alexander Ular, who is regarded in Paris as the mouthpiece of Count Witte, says many of the higher Russian functionaries are dying from fright, or are on the verge of escaping from the country. In their cases guns, bombs or knives are unnecessary.

Professor Ular says that General Skladin, governor general of Poland, with the drums of both his ears destroyed by the explosion of a bomb, is in a state of imbecile collapse and probably will be succeeded by General Lienenkampff. Admiral Dubassoff, author of the horrors at Moscow, whose leg was blown off, has received a present of 1,000,000 roubles ($500,000) from the czar in compensation, but his depressive zeal is at an end, and he has decided to spend the rest of his life at foreign watering places.

DUBLIN TO LOSE REV. JENKENS

It Is Believed He Will Accept the Call From Baltimore.

Dublin, Ga., September 25.—(Special.)—It looks as if Dublin is bound to lose Rev. Millard A. Jenkins, pastor of the Dublin Baptist church. He is now considering five calls to other churches. He has been called to churches in Hopkinsville, Ky.; Nashville, Tenn.; Roanoke, Va.; Waynesville, N. C., and Baltimore, Md. The latter call was received a few days ago. The call came from the church formerly served by Dr. Henry M. Wharton, the noted evangelist and author. It is not definitely known what Rev. Mr. Jenkins will do, but it is believed that he is seriously considering the call received from the church at Baltimore and the church at Hopkinsville.

MACON CITIZENS PREFER WALKING

Strikers Are Cool and Seemingly Self-Possessed.

Meeting Monday Night Strengthened Sympathy for Strikers—Very Few Rights Occur and Participants in Affray Are Heavily Fined.

Macon, Ga., September 25.—(Special.)—There was little change in the strike situation in Macon today. The cars have been operated under difficulty, and the new men in charge in numbers of instances have had slight accidents. Poor time has been made and cars are at times far between. The local public is walking to a large extent.

The meeting last night strengthened the sympathy for the strikers, and more people have sided with them today. Manager Nyhan is devoting his time to running cars as regularly as possible. Office men, inspectors and machinists have been put in charge of cars where it was necessary, and during the day at least fifteen cars have been out.

Judge Nottingham, of the police court, has been severe in his dealing with men who have been arraigned for yelling "scab." Despite the prohibitory measures taken, torpedoes have been placed on the tracks wherever it was possible, and the excitement has thus been augmented.

New men have proven rather dilatory in managing their cars. In one case there was a fight, and C. S. Broxton and John Spikes left their cars where there was strenuous interference. The men were arrested and held for trial at police court, but escaped, because it was said that the man who raised the disturbance and created all the excitement possible and then skipped out before an officer reached the scene.

The strikers are cool and seemingly self-possessed. The situation is still rather unsettled, and no one can tell what will be the outcome.

"REPUBS." WON'T LAUNCH TICKET

Party in Alabama Decides Time Is Inopportune for Activity.

Birmingham, September 25.—The republican state executive committee at a meeting here today decided not to nominate a state ticket this year, and Charles Scott, of Montgomery, national republican committeeman from Alabama, who was recently announced as a candidate for governor, declared before the committee that he had considered the matter, and regarded it as inopportune to make the race. A resolution was passed condemning any tendency to rebel against the party authority. This resolution is understood to be aimed at Julius Davidson and other members of the Alabama republicans who have called a mass state convention to meet here Thursday to consider putting out a state ticket.

NEGRO EDITOR LEFT AUGUSTA

Searching for More Congenial Climate, He Promises to Remain Away.

Augusta, Ga., September 25.—After having been mysteriously warned that he must leave Augusta on account of incendiary publications in his paper, a negro journal, The Georgia Baptist, W. J. White, a negro preacher, today notified Mayor Allen that he would get out of Augusta and never return. He left on the mid-day train, and his paper is not to be published any more.

White has several times in the past been the cause of incipient disturbances between the races by expressions through his paper, and a few years ago was saved from injury and his office from destruction by a mob which had surrounded it with the intention of applying the torch, by a prominent attorney.

He was advised today by conservative men of both races that it would be safer for him to leave, and he accepted the advice.

CLASH FEARED BETWEEN RACES

Negro Assaultant Hunted by Incensed Mob at Mobile, Alabama.

Mobile, Ala., September 25.—Excitement ran high at Oakdale, a suburb of Mobile, as a result of a desperate attempt at criminal assault by a negro upon Mrs. J. Touchstone, a well known resident of that place. For two hours the woman fought desperately with the negro brute, preventing his evil designs, after fighting him all over the room and even water he had almost throttled her. If the negro is captured he will probably be lynched. Trouble is feared between the races.

Army Using Fireless Stoves.

Washington, September 25.—Under the direction of Commissary General Sharpe, of the army, experiments have been made at the practice camps this summer and fall of a fireless cooker. The cooker has been used by the army in an experimental way, and has been tried under severe service conditions. The results have been particularly satisfactory.

Attempt To Blow Up Barracks.

Helmsford, Finland, September 25.—An unsuccessful attempt was made at 1 o'clock this morning to blow up the police reserve barracks here. One reserve man was slightly injured, and the window of the barracks and of the adjacent guards' barracks and other buildings were shattered. There is no clew.

It will be noticed that it is generally members of the lower house who are in favor of the election of United States senators by popular vote.

Professor Whipple, of Columbia college, says it is perfectly possible for a man to earn a million dollars honestly. He probably means to say "acquire."

If this prediction comes to pass, will be no intervention expeditions powers to Peking, and, mayhap, Chinese exclusion laws.

AT THE LAST ANALYSIS IS LAW, ORDER AND JUSTICE.

On the great seal of the state of Georgia are three words charged with solemn, deliberate meaning. They are: Wisdom; Justice; Moderation. The Constitution could ask no more of the people of Atlanta than that these words shall be their guiding rules of action until tranquility is restored beyond the shadow of peradventure.

We gain nothing—we jeopardize much—by listening to, by tolerating incendiary counsel. Atlanta is, at present, no place for the firebrand—of either race. Out of what WAS the danger of chaos, order is being evolved. But it is, and MUST CONTINUE TO BE, the order of LAW and the order of JUSTICE. Peace on any other foundation cannot be permanent. Security bought by innocent blood can only be temporary—and it may hold infinite menace for the far future.

Let us, by all means, have more policemen! Let us double—if necessary, let us treble—the force in city and county. ABSOLUTE PROTECTION OF OUR WOMEN, PERFECT SAFETY FOR OUR HOMES ARE THE PARAMOUNT DUTIES—AND THEY WILL BE DISCHARGED, REGARDLESS OF COST!

Yet we have had the lesson—written large in blood, written larger in terror—that hosts of armed men are a thinner protecting wall than fundamental justice and the heaven-born power of right.

There is the cowardly assassination of a brave policeman night before last. There is the pitiful death of an expectant white mother, precipitated by shock at the killing of two negro brutes. There are the numerous other tense scenes of the last few nights. There is the practical paralysis of business. There is the spectacle of the south's leading city an armed camp. There is that city transfixed in the eyes of the south and the nation.

And back of it all, what? A flagrant disregard for law, a murderous laugh in the face of justice by excited, headlong youths. A fearfully misdirected zeal for vengeance, taking the form of punishing the innocent for the guilty.

And the entire community with the price to pay in agitation, demoralization and a suspense far worse than either.

The penalty—death, quick and unsparring—for assailants or would-be assailants of our women. Such careful, cautious, comprehensive measures as will insure their ABSOLUTE SAFETY. Stern repression of uprisings that threaten Atlanta's peace and prosperity. LATER ON, an investigation into the genesis of Saturday night. LATER ON, as well as NOW, rigorous precautions to the end that neither its provocation nor the sequel shall be duplicated.

But let us remember that unless this thing is settled in the principles of justice and right and rockribbed law that the necessity may arise for a second settlement; perhaps a more tragic settlement. Russia is the most heavily policed country in the world. Why is it not the most orderly and peaceful? Because its people are living under a sense of wrong inflicted and injustice, indiscriminate and far-reaching. It is a mightier force than armed battalions!

WE ARE GOING TO PROTECT OUR OWN; WE ARE GOING TO PUNISH, SWIFTLY, EFFECTUALLY, ATTEMPTS ON OUR WOMEN; WE ARE GOING TO RESTORE THIS CITY, PERMANENTLY, TO A CONDITION OF LAW AND ORDER!

Let these facts impress themselves upon the minds of whites and blacks alike.

Let the supreme race—the race that ALWAYS WILL BE SUPREME—remember its accompanying moral obligations, and the state's portentous motto:

WISDOM, JUSTICE, MODERATION!

The Railroad Commissioner.

Hon. T. C. Crenshaw, candidate for railroad commissioner, has furnished another card to the public bearing upon his candidacy.

His card is quite lengthy, and The Constitution presents elsewhere a brief summary of its salient features.

In this connection we take occasion to admonish Mr. Crenshaw that he is making a mistake in antagonizing the regular democratic nominee—Mr. McLendon.

Whether or not Mr. Crenshaw approves the manner by which Mr. McLendon was nominated at the Macon convention, there can be no doubt of the fact that Mr. McLendon is the nominee, and the only regular nominee, of the party for this place.

If one man has the right to set himself up as an authority on the regularity of the party nominations, any other man has the right to do the same thing. The only safe plan to preserve the integrity of the party is for every democrat to abide by the formal action of the party, and if ever a man's candidacy was entitled to the official stamp of party regularity, Candidate McLendon's is.

It is too late now to discuss Mr. McLendon's attitude on the sale of the state road before he was nominated. Mr. Crenshaw was a candidate at the time of the meeting of the state convention and if there were any charges against Mr. McLendon that was the time, and there was the place, for the hearing.

The chairman of the state democratic executive committee, Judge Miller, is right in his positive refusal to the effect that only Mr. McLendon's name is entitled to position on the official form of ballot prepared by the party authorities. And every democrat should be governed accordingly.

If we have a party we must abide by its action, otherwise disintegration will be the inevitable result. No democrat has the right to bolt a party nomination, and it is no justification to say that because Mr. McLendon has done this in the past, he is not now entitled to the support of genuine democrats.

As the nominee of the party Mr. McLendon is just as much entitled to the support of every democrat in the state as any man who ever was nominated by the democratic party, or any other party, and no democrat can support any other candidate without doing violence to his party obligation.

Now is not the time for an academic discussion as to Mr. McLendon's attitude on the state road or anything else—he is the nominee of the party, and as such there can be no question as to his election on the railroad commission, if the democrats do their duty.

One of the latest floral evolutions is the Jim Ham Lewis chrysanthemum. It is said to have the graceful spread of J. Ham's pirate lambskins, but it's dollars to doughnuts that its color is a cheap imitation.

"JUST FROM GEORGIA" PRESS COMMENT ON ATLANTA'S OUTBREAK

His Dancing Feet.

When Winter comes an' sings his sleet
An' bolders with his storm,
A feller sings his dancing feet
To keep a feller warm!

In Trouble knockin' at the door

From Tribulation Town?
A feller dares call the more,
To keep the trouble down!

Then let old Winter come along.

An' "storm of sorrow fall,"
When my old fiddle sings a song,
It's "Halleluia all!"

There's light enough in this world

To blaze the way to glory," says a cheerful exchange. And that's true; but, by the blessing of God, we don't care to strike the blinding proposition!

In the Storm.

Leave you the shadows
Of the lone some night;
The dark storm blossoms
With a rainbow bright!

Some Georgia Sentiments.

The moonlight sings because the song is in him; but lots of folks sing because they think they have voices.

The humble things of life are the sweetest after all; the trees of the woodlands catch the dew of heaven and drip 'em down to you.

Even in sorrow light enough comes to us to glimmer through the tears of all the years.

Queer Fellows.

Love's a queer one—well-a-day!
Every mood estranging;
Now he weeps the world away,
Then he leads the dancing!

Weeping over sorrow past.

He from joy would sever;
But we're with him to the last—
We're his own forever!

Sensational Journalism.

(From The Savannah News.)

Certain negroes were suspected of criminal acts, for the punishment of which there are strenuous laws on the statute books. But the mob wouldn't wait for the due process of law to condemn and punish the guilty parties but set out to wreak vengeance of its own accord. In what degree is sensational journalism in Atlanta responsible for this outburst of law and defiance of authority? It has been advocated in public print in that city that Kukulkan be formed for the purpose of enforcing the unwritten law in certain particulars. Has that kind of newspaper talk had the effect of inflaming a portion of the population to lawlessness, and were the riots the outcome of teaching? A certain New York newspaper has been charged with responsibility for the assassination of President McKinley. Similarly it is possible that a charge of responsibility for Saturday night's exhibition of the mob spirit in Atlanta may be laid at the door of sensational journalism.

Yellow Journalism and the Mob.

(From The New York Sun.)

Atlanta is in greater danger from the brutal license of yellow journalism than from the lust of the negro.

Solution in Negro Hands.

(From The Chattanooga Times.)

Nothing quite so threatening and deplorable has happened in the south for many years as the outbreak of race antagonism yesterday Saturday night, reported in these columns yesterday morning. The explanation of the riot is easy—two criminal assaults by negro men on white women and children within two hours, six of them within ten days and four in one day Saturday and which forced the climax. The only wonder is that the people of the Georgia capital were able to restrain for so long a time the anger and rage of the populace under such trying circumstances. That which has happened was expected and may be expected again even with greater violence if something is not done by the negroes themselves in restraint of the vicious, lawless and brutal elements of their race, and that, too, promptly and vigorously.

Negroes Imperil Their Race.

(From The Richmond (Va.) Times-Dispatch.)

But what force can preaching have, in the face of such outrages as have been committed in and around Atlanta? The negroes seem to be moved by the spirit of racial hatred, and have vented their wrath upon innocent and defenseless white women. They have set the law at defiance. How then can they invoke the protection of the law? They have acted like so many wild beasts at large. How, then, can they hope to be treated as human beings? They have themselves declared war on the women, and when the Anglo-Saxon goes to war in defense of his home and fires, he knows no law save the law of vengeance—an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.

Mob Law a Failure.

(From The Macon (Ga.) Telegraph.)

The Atlanta situation has accentuated the race problem as never before. In recent years, and the south generally, confronted with it in a manner that admonishes her that she can no longer neglect to deal with it intelligently, like not for gain or politics. The law of the mob was a foredoomed failure. Demonstration has shown that it but adds to the evil. The educational plan, whether by suggestive pictures of whites in negro dress, or suggestive juxtapositions of white women and negroes, put on the stage before a promiscuous crowd, is just about as sensible as removing danger from a powder magazine by sticking a match to it.

Shame to the South.

(From The Memphis Commercial Appeal.)

Unlike other portions of the country, where the principles of law are to be shot at negroes when one of them has excited public fury. In the south the unwritten law declares death for the guilty alone; pacification and protection for the innocent. Yesterday, with its reckless rioting, its bullets, its black face and its stones and sticks for all black bodies, has reproduced Chicago scenes in the south, overthrown the shadow of justice there may have been in the law, and replaced it with that bond of confidence which the innocent negro of the south felt in the justice of the white man of this section. . . . No wonder patience and self-control were lost; but in the losing of these virtues and the resultant desperate rioting, however great the provocation, Atlanta brought shame to the south, and has set a fuse that is more than apt to cause a most harrowing explosion.

The Social Equality Dream.

(From The Augusta, Ga., Tribune.)

We read and wonder at the reports of massacres of Jews in Russia, where innocent Jews are butchered by the wild mobs, yet the same thing occurred in Atlanta. Incensed to the highest pitch by the report of four criminal assaults committed almost simultaneously by negroes upon white women, the mob began to attack the negroes and their victims in many, if not most cases, were inoffensive negroes entirely. Innocent of the crimes which had provoked the mob. . . . The remedy is plain. It is the passage of such laws as will make it plain to the negroes that social equality can never be in this country. Then those of them that do not like it may emigrate to countries where social equality is accorded, and those that remain will be orderly, and all cause for friction between the races will be removed.

The Remedy Must Be Lawful.

(From The Augusta (Ga.) Herald.)

We will not tolerate rioting and lawlessness either among the whites or blacks, but at the same time, we shall not tolerate in any individual the things that go to cause these outbreaks.

The authorities all over the south should heed the lesson of Atlanta.

Give us sharp, decided action. Let us be firm and vigilant in the enforcing of the law. Let us handle the idle and vicious characters of the community promptly and effectively. In other words, let us remove and put an end to the criminal acts of the individual, which, when they occur frequently and go unpunished, will always result in the rising of the mob and in the spreading of violence. The white people of the south owe it to themselves to protect their civilization at every cost and there is no doubt of their ability to cope with the situation, but let us do it in the proper, prompt enforcement of the law rather than by our own neglect, calling into existence the mob spirit.

Remove the Provocation.

(From The New Orleans Picayune.)

The remedy for lynching is to stop ravishing by prompt and sufficient punishment, and not by protecting the ravishers and punishing the people who try to protect themselves and their women.

Stop the Offense.

(From The Columbus (Ga.) Ledger.)

The Ledger attributes the rioting to dives, and the negro beastliness, and says: "When men's passions are aroused as they were aroused in Atlanta, reason is deflected and frenzy takes sway. Men are not then responsible for their acts, for they are demons for the time to avenge the outrages upon the innocent."

Time for Conservatism.

(From The Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle.)

The point which we wish to stress just now is, the necessity for patient, patriotic action in coping with the very aggravated situation that at present confronts us. This is no time for violent talk or radical action. Wherever you have such talk or the suggestion of such action, those engaged in the cause of a peaceful solution of the Atlanta situation. These things failing, there will be still time for the application of the final remedy. . . . When unoffending negroes are ruthlessly slain out of resentment for the acts of the vicious, it can leave but one feeling in the breasts of all other negroes, good and bad—that of deep-seated resentment.

For How Long.

(From The Asheville Gazette News.)

It is the duty of every man who acknowledges the sovereignty of law to deplore the shedding of innocent blood, or of any blood by a mob. It would be a blessed hope to entertain that such scenes as those enacted yesterday in Atlanta will become less frequent, and that they would finally cease to occur. Such a hope, however, would have no present probability as a basis.

Duty of Good Citizens.

(From The Chattanooga (Tenn.) Times.)

In this manifestation of the blood-lust and lawlessness exhibited in one of the most forward cities of the country, law, order and Christian sentiment stands appalled. Almost everywhere in the south we expect anywhere in the country where the human wickedness and depravity without let or hindrance thus breaks the bounds of enforced restraint? Law and lawful authority seem to be helpless and useless in such an emergency and this event shows that the hope of a restoration in the human heart or conscience when the madness of riot seizes upon men.

Future of Negro in South.

(From The Rome Tribune.)

The Tribune has ever been an enemy to lynch law—and to lawlessness of all kinds, for that matter—but our entire sympathy goes out to the people of Atlanta in their present unfortunate position.

Assaults Must Stop.

(From The Knoxville Sentinel.)

Atlanta's best citizens are ashamed of the events in that city yesterday night, and they may be, but the incident only emphasizes the danger of the race situation and portends similar riots, if conditions do not change, in other southern cities.

Those who would hastily condemn

Atlanta's best citizens are ashamed of the events in that city yesterday night, and they may be, but the incident only emphasizes the danger of the race situation and portends similar riots, if conditions do not change, in other southern cities.

The excitement over these continued

outrages grows. The people are calling on the negroes to make some effort to put down the criminals in their race. The negroes did give the matter some attention and an agitation was started among them which seemed to bid fair to bring about good fruits. But these hopes were dispelled last week, when within six days there were six more attempted assaults. The newspapers are now being criticised for printing the news. Some of them may have been sensational, but the news was sensational. Such a condition of affairs has been unparalleled in a civilized community. By apparently spontaneous impulse a mob of 5,000 white men fell on the colored people Saturday night.

Innocent negroes suffered and a great wrong was done, but in analyzing the occurrence let every man put his finger on the festering sore which is the cause of this intense race feeling. Let him consider the occurrences which infuriated the white men.

The negro must be brought to realize that these criminal assaults must stop. The race's situation all over the south will be precarious and peace calling on the realization by the blacks of their obligation to society in that respect.

On the white race rests the fearful responsibility of restraining its arm and acting with patience and care the negroes, of arousing a wholesome public sentiment among them—let their preachers, teachers, editors and leaders follow Booker Washington's example and denounce this crime, and visit punishment on those who are dragging their race down. If these outrages do not cease they may have to pay the most fearful penalty ever visited on a race.

Prompt Action Necessary.

(From The Louisville Times.)

Compared with Springfield, Ohio, and other northern cities, Atlanta is not without defense. Had immediate trial followed the arrest and legal execution come on the heels of conviction in the first instance of rape, Atlanta's womanhood would have escaped the series of assaults committed on it, and the city would not now be injured by the consequences which inevitably result from the mob's control. A lesson which the law-abiding negroes might draw is that had their influence been exercised for the lawful punishment of the negro rapists, the penalty exacted of their race would have been escaped.

It is inevitable that this mob outrage should have occurred just at a time when mob violence is abating in the south and the lynching evil is apparently diminishing. It is most unfortunate that it should have occurred in a city like Atlanta, which has been considered one of the most enlightened and advanced cities of the south. If such outbreaks can occur in Atlanta and mobs can successfully defy municipal authority, what may not be expected in rural towns and villages?

It is not to be supposed for an instant that the better class of people in Atlanta, its municipal authorities, or the state executive sympathize with the mob, but there must be something wrong in the administration of law when the city can be abandoned to a mob in this manner.

Outbreak Was Inevitable.

Hon. A. G. Powell, of Blakely, one of the well known candidates for the new state court of appeals, who is in Atlanta for a day or two in the interest of his campaign, has just received an interesting and characteristic letter from Judge Logan E. Bleckley, in which that distinguished jurist strongly indorses his candidacy for this position.

Judge Bleckley's letter, which will be read with interest, is as follows: "Clarkeville, Ga., September 21, 1906. "A. G. Powell, Esq., Blakely, Ga. Dear Sir: During my service of about twelve years on the bench, of the supreme court, I studied the mind of lawyers, as well as the cases they argued before me. This experience assured me that as musicians widely differ in musical touch, so lawyers differ in legal aptitude, or what may be called their legal touch; many of them being moderately gifted, some highly gifted, and a few very highly gifted. The three grades of talent are as good, better, best."

"The best legal minds are readily distinguished and easily recognized as soon as they are put to the test. I have seen whether in oral argument, their professional documents and writings or merely in conversation. When a superior lawyer expresses himself his light is set upon a candlestick; it is hidden under a bushel only when he is silent."

"In view of your candidacy for a seat on the bench of the proposed court of appeals, allow me to say, I have seen your light shine with resplendent brightness. I can bear testimony to your being one of the elect. I have seen members of our profession. You are a genuine lawyer, with a true insight into the nature of law and its real import, both in letter and spirit. With ample opportunity for judicial service I am sure you will not fail to prove yourself a great judge."

"My works shall correspond with my faith. In the confidence of my own mind and confidence and cordially for you."

Dr. and Mrs. S. W. Foster, of 84 West North avenue, have been informed of the death of Dr. W. E. Jackson, of Montgomery, father of Mrs. Foster. Dr. Walter Clarke Jackson, one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of Montgomery, died at his home in that city at the advanced age of 78 years. Funeral services were held on Sunday, and the Montgomery Advertiser devoted two columns to an obituary of one of the oldest citizens, in which he was accorded the highest praise as one of the most noted members of the medical profession of Alabama and the entire south. While Dr. Jackson had for a number of years retired from active practice, as an adviser he continued to make his great learning of the greatest advantage to the citizens of Montgomery and Alabama. Of distinguished lineage, his ancestors were among the most noted Georgians of their time. A frequent visitor to Atlanta and other places in Georgia, he was well known in this state, both on account of his reputation as a physician and his charming personality as a true and cultured Christian gentleman. Both in times of peace and war, he devoted much of his time and energies to charitable work, and his memory will ever be cherished by thousands of friends in his home city, state and throughout the southland.

DID NOT REPORT ARRIVAL.Colonel Van Orsdale Corrects an In- Statement Concerning the Seventeenth Regiment.

Colonel Van Orsdale, commanding the Seventeenth infantry, United States army, now stationed at Fort Meade, stated yesterday that he wished to correct the statement that he had reported the arrival of his regiment in Atlanta after a forced march, to Colonel Anderson, of the Fifth Georgia, in command of the military forces now in Georgia, and patrolling the streets of Atlanta. "While it is true that Colonel Van Orsdale, 'that came into Atlanta by a forced march,' was not within my province to report to Colonel Anderson under any circumstances, if the arrival of the regiment was reported to him it was without my knowledge. Of course, if called upon through the proper channels required for the calling out of federal troops, I am ready at all times to respond immediately, but so far as the reporting of the arrival of my regiment to Colonel Anderson is concerned, it was done without my authority, and as I said before, was quite outside of my province as commander of my regiment, even if I had wished to do so."

Maier & Berkele.STUDY CLOSELY THE EFFECT OF THE CLOSE OF SALOONS SAYS ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

THE Georgia Anti-Saloon League is taking an active interest in the present situation in Atlanta and has issued to the public the following statement:

"We are greatly pleased to learn that the saloons have been ordered closed for the time being, on account of the condition of affairs in Atlanta."

"We wish to urge all the good people of Atlanta to study closely the effect, for good or evil, this order will have in the city, and satisfy themselves as to which is the better, saloons or no saloons."

"If in the judgment of thinking men the town will be better off with no saloons, it will be only a question of demand upon the part of the people, with nerve and determination to stand by the demand, and they will be closed for good."

"The one hundred and sixty-odd liquor establishments, only so many gateways to hell, that exist in our fair city, are here only by toleration, and the sooner every good citizen can be prevailed on to see that he is personally responsible for the existence of so foul a crime in the city, the sooner decisive efforts will be made for its removal."

"The saloons are here fattening off the life blood of our noble manhood, and plunging deeper and deeper into debauchery and crime the more and vicious element of the community."

"Information comes into this office that 90 per cent of the devilish deeds done in the city is due alone to the existence of the liquor traffic, and more than half of its revenues from the influence of liquor sold on Saturday nights, and it is high time that men begin to look into the situation, and assist in applying a remedy. It is the determined purpose of the league to bring all the influence possible to bear upon our authorities to have all liquor establishments closed on Saturdays at 5 o'clock."

T. C. CRENSHAW CENTRAL CLERKS WRITES LETTER REQUEST RAISERenews the Charge He Made Effort to Secure 10 Per Cent Increase in Salary Made at Macon.

Hon. T. C. Crenshaw, candidate for railroad commissioner against the democratic nominee, Hon. S. G. McLendon, furnished another letter to the newspapers of the state, in which he renews his charges against Mr. McLendon.

Among other things Mr. Crenshaw says:

"I recognize your right to call my hand, and I will now make a show down. Here are my exact words: 'Now, as Candidate McLendon is a lawyer, and as the records show that he seldom, if ever, appeared in the courts for the Plant system of railroads, what were his duties if not to assist in preventing the passage of bills inimical to the corporation. Such work as is now called 'lobbying.' Here my proof to sustain every word of the foregoing language is before you. I have in my address to the people of Georgia: 'J. N. C. Stockton, Jacksonville, Fla., September 12, 1906.—Hon. T. C. Crenshaw, candidate for governor, Atlanta, Ga. Dear Sir: Yours of the 8th inst. to hand. I do not know much about the corporation record of Mr. S. G. McLendon, but I know that he is a lawyer, and that he is a member of the legislature, and that he is a representative of the Plant system of railroads, and that he is a lobbyist, and that he is a man who is not fit to be a representative of the people at that time did not pay any special attention to the part Mr. McLendon took."

Signed, "J. N. C. STOCKTON." "I charged Candidate McLendon by his own admission that he voted against the bill of the plant system, and that he was president and vice president in 1900, and the Lord only knows how he voted in 1904. I also charged Candidate McLendon with writing Governor Terrell a letter that he intended to run as an independent candidate for governor against him in 1904, two years ago."

"I charged Candidate McLendon with voting for the bill allowing the railroads the right of appeal from a decision of the railroad commission, which bill, if passed, would have allowed the railroads to appeal from a decision of the commission."

"I charged that Candidate McLendon was a lawyer, yet during the entire time he was on the pay roll (and in order to save Mr. McLendon from again indulging in his splitting hairs, I will say of the Plant system. I have shown by indisputable testimony in this communication that for twelve years or more, prior to 1903, you were generally at Tallahassee, Fla. (in which state Mr. Plant's company owned many hundred miles of railway) when the bill of the plant system was passed, engaged in a business not very popular in Georgia just at this time, and commonly called lobbying."

"The proposition by Candidate McLendon to sell the state road for $10,000,000 (ten millions) or 'fence it up' is treated with the same studied evasion. He does not deny that he wrote the letter over his own signature to a certain prominent financier in Atlanta. He merely asks that I submit the original to Hon. Hoke Smith or to Hon. Hooper Alexander, and tell them say whether the letter was truly quoted. Candidate McLendon knows who he wrote the letter to, and he also knows it was correctly published without any changes or alterations, and he does not, and will not, deny its genuineness."

"In Candidate McLendon's reference to the state road, he says that in a published card in 1905 he showed that the property would pay 5 per cent on $10,000,000 ($1,000,000). This being true, why did Candidate McLendon, in the same year, offer to help engineer legislation to sell this great property of the state for ten million ($10,000,000) dollars or 'fence it up'?"

"Candidate McLendon now explains that he meant by 'fencing it up' to keep other lines from paralleling it. How silly! Does anybody take this explanation seriously? Does Candidate McLendon take himself seriously? The people are not fools, and can be deceived by this political mountebank."

thus removing the opportunity of the vicious and lawless element to engage in the usual Saturday night revelry and crime.

"The city council has a perfect right to close up these places when in their judgment it is for the best interest of the city, and if the good people engaged in humanitarian efforts wish it, and will help in working for it, the saloons can be closed every Saturday at 5 o'clock."

"We have been urging enforcement of law relative to the liquor traffic, pointing out such violations as we could get hold of, but have not been as successful as we had hoped to be. We shall make other attempts this week, and again give the police department some points to work on, and, if possible, get them to move in the matter; if not, we shall take hold of the matter and make cases ourselves. The league is unqualifiedly pledged to law enforcement—through the regular sworn officers if we can—independently of them if we have to."

"We are not strictly a law-enforcement order, transferring ourselves into police boards to execute law, but to assist the regularly chosen officers, furnish information and such aids as may be within our power, and also to cause, if possible, the enactment of better laws, where we find them inadequate or unenforceable."

"One hundred thousand men go to the grave and to hell through these dens of infamy and crime every year, while they seek to create a thirst in as many boys to take their places."

at Macon.

Constitution Bureau, 467 Second Street, Macon, Ga., September 25.—(Special.)

General dissatisfaction in the general offices of the Central railway agency here has caused the entire force of more than fifty clerks to enter a united effort to secure a raise of 10 per cent throughout the clerical work, and a communication signed by all but one man has been sent to Superintendent J. H. Hall, of the Macon division, and to General Superintendent Johnson, of the Atlanta division, in which a satisfactory reply has been asked for tomorrow.

There is nothing unusually strong in the communication. It was the purpose of the men to make this a request for a consideration of the raise before the 1st of October, and the men of the Macon and Savannah and Columbus get a better wage scale than the Macon men, and for this reason it has become a unanimous desire that something be done to the wages of the clerks here. The matter will be taken up by the official, and is now pending."

The complaints have come from the men under Chief Clerk Stegall. Former Chief Clerk Pittman was promoted early in the year to the agent's place made vacant by the removal of T. W. Glaze to Atlanta. It was said that the first dissatisfaction came as a result of having brought in a man to fill the chief clerk's place after Mr. Pittman was promoted when instead general promotion could have been made used."

In the cashier's office in the rate and billing departments, and among the warehouse and cotton clerks the effort to get the raise has been made, and the entire force is looking for a favorable answer by tomorrow."

THE WAY OUTChange of Food Brought Success and Happiness.

An ambitious but delicate girl, after failing to go through school an account of nervousness and hysteria, found in Grape-Nuts the only thing that seemed to build her up and furnish her the peace of health.

"From infancy," she says, "I have not been strong. Being ambitious to learn at any cost I finally got to the High School, but soon had to abandon my studies on account of nervous prostration and hysteria."

"My food did not agree with me, I grew thin and despondent. I could not enjoy the simplest social affair, for I suffered constantly from nervousness in spite of all sorts of medicines."

"This wretched condition continued until I was twenty-five, when I became interested in the letters of those who had cases like mine and who were being cured by eating Grape-Nuts."

"I had little faith, but procured a box and after the first dish I experienced a peculiar satisfied feeling that I had never gained from any ordinary food. I slept and rested better that night and in a few days began to grow stronger."

"I had a new feeling of peace and restfulness. In a few weeks, to my great joy, the headaches and nervousness left me and life became bright and hopeful. I resumed my studies and later taught ten months with ease of course, using Grape-Nuts every day. It is now four years since I began to use Grape-Nuts. I am the mistress of a happy home and the old weakness has never returned." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

GEORGIA TECH STARTS TODAYLarge Increase in Attendance Is Expected This Year.*Many Improvements Have Been In- augurated During the Summer and Tech Is Now Thoroughly Prepared for the Coming Year's School Work.

The Georgia Technological Institute, under a new president, Dr. K. G. Matheson, and with a greatly augmented faculty, today begins its nineteenth year, for the session of 1906-07, which promises to be one of the most successful in the history of the institution.

Many of the students arrived yesterday, and found homes for the year in the Tech dormitories and boarding places of the city, and are now ready to take up the work of engaging in their studies.

The registration began yesterday afternoon, and will continue today until 1 o'clock, when the examinations, lasting until October 1, will start. After this date class room and shop work proper will begin.

A number of improvements have been inaugurated since the closing of the term last year, and with all these Georgia Tech is now one of the most complete institutions of its kind in the country. Two new departments were instituted by the board of trustees at the June meeting, that of mining, and a new department of chemistry. The addition to the chemistry department called for a new chemical laboratory, and this was built during the summer. Dr. Matheson, after visiting many of the larger technological schools of the country, says that Georgia Tech's chemical laboratory compares favorably with any of them. This laboratory will be opened for the first time this session, and everything is now ready for the students taking charge.

Although it is very early now, it is an estimate of the attendance for the year, indications point to a considerable gain over that of last year. There is no way of definitely determining the enrollment until all the students report, and a large number generally come in after the opening of the term as is the case in all schools.

Dr. Matheson hoped that the new library would be completed in time for the opening, but owing to some delay work has begun on the building until about ten days ago. However, the erection of the library building having fairly started, the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible until the building is completed.

All in all, Georgia Tech opens the year under most auspicious conditions, and President Matheson expects a brilliant session for the institution during 1906-7.

A petition calling on the mayor and council to order the closing of every disorderly house in the city is being circulated and largely signed. Hugh S. Wallace, who is financing the movement, says that twelve hundred names have been affixed to the petitions and that a large sum will be spent in the prosecution of this movement.

Among those who have signed the petition are a number of prominent citizens. A feature of the petition is the demand on the mayor and council to grant the request for the closing of every disorderly house in the city, and let city officials be elected who will do so."

The petition may be signed at the following places: Majestic, Young Men's Christian Association, Goodwin's (Peach, tree and Deotour), T. H. Pitts, Chamberlain-Johnson-Dubose Co., Davidson-Paxon-Stokes, J. M. High & Co.

SOCIETIES ACTIVE AT EMORY.Great Rivalry on Between Few and Phi Gamma Fraternities.

Emory College, Oxford, Ga., September 25.—(Special.)—Few and Phi Gamma literary societies opened this morning with an unusually large attendance. Some seventeen new men were initiated into Phi Gamma and eleven into Few.

In Few, E. E. Barnett, of Jacksonville, Fla., was elected editor in chief of the Phoenix in place of A. F. Hind, who has not returned to college this year. T. M. Sullivan was elected last term debater in the place of Mr. Woodward, who has not returned. The antagonism between the two societies in the debating line this year will be more strenuous than ever before.

THE "Friedman Shoe Maker"

Another thing I am very particular about is the "Sewing" in the "ATLANTIC" shoe. The latest improved Stitches do Clean and Perfect Work that will not give way to the severest strain. Even the Thread must be up to the "Friedman Standard" and that means the Best. There are over a Thousand Stitches in a shoe and it requires skillful handling to join the Linings and different Parts, but the Hundreds of Employees in this Shop know their work like they do their ABC's, and I guarantee that they do it well. Another and a good reason why you should join the "SHOE-WISE CLUB."

Let your next Shoe Experience be with the "ATLANTIC" the BEST product of the GREATEST shoe market on earth.

friedman MAKER A CONTINUED SUCCESS FOR 52 YEARS ONLY 1 HOUSE IN 10,000 HAS SUCH A RECORD ST. LOUIS.LONDON CHURCH METHODS INTEREST DR. BROUGHTON

REV. LEN G. BROUGHTON is spending his time profitably in the detailed study of church methods and work as seen in the best of the English centers. He is at present in London, where he has received with open arms by the congregation of Dr. G. Campbell Morgan's church.

Dr. Broughton, Mr. Charlie Alexander and Mr. Charlie Butler will be entertained together at the home of Mr. Alexander, and the union will be a pleasant one, because of the close relationship existing between Dr. Broughton and these two sweet gospel singers.

In his weekly letter to The Constitution Dr. Broughton says:

"My first Sunday's work at Westminster began last Sunday. It was a very pleasant occasion to me. In spite of the intense heat, the greatest they have had in thirty years, a large crowd was present. When I got to the church and entered Dr. Morgan's room in the vestry, I found a beautiful basket of flowers, arranged in the most artistic manner. I never saw anything much more beautiful. On the basket was a card that read like this:

"To Dr. Broughton, in loving remembrance of two years ago when I was converted under his preaching at Westminster church. The giver was one of the best young women in the church—one who is full of every good work."

"No one can tell just how this little heart-touch made me feel upon entering my ministry here. I suppose I am more influenced by such things than the average man. I can't help it any way. The most of my life is taken up in dealing with the rough and tumble of the world, and when now and then I am given a peep into the 'poetic,' it thrills my soul. This is especially so when it is under such circumstances as this. I love these little touches of heaven-born sweetness. Even the hard and difficult problems of life are made easier by them. Dr. Morgan's great church is full of delicate touches. Perhaps no man is more blessed in this regard than I am. And more susceptible to such influences. He always bows in loving recognition of even the slightest show of affectionate appreciation extended by his people."

"In some respects, I felt quite at home Sunday. Looking over my audience I recognized the face of a number of southerners, and conspicuous among them was Miss Myrtle Wiggs, of my own church, who coasted on the same boat with me, and Mr. Charles Butler, the great, great Georgia gospel soloist. Miss Wiggs is ever here to spend several months, perhaps a year, pursuing certain studies in the lines of literature. After studying some weeks in England, she will join some friends under a special teacher in Paris and through the continent."

Spent the Days Together. "Mr. Butler, after crossing the continent, is spending some time at the home of Mr. Charles Alexander, Birmingham. We all spent the day together, and had a good time at the expense of people and things around. There were many things to talk about, but we finally wound up by agreeing that the red hills of Georgia hit the spot as nothing else can."

Friday night of this week, the Westminster Bible training school opens, and for four weeks I am to take Dr. Morgan's regular Friday night Bible lecture hour. I say I am to take the "hour," for that is about all the Morgan that there will be in it. I am not trying to take his place, that would be the height of folly. I am simply trying to do my little work, and do it in my way.

"I am giving much of my time to the studying of church enterprises over here. They are far ahead of us in much of their work. One night last week I spent at Whitefield, one of the greatest institutional churches in London. They have a number of very fine things going on, games, reading rooms, bath rooms, gymnasium, music halls, class rooms, educational classes during the week, a kitchen, tea and lunch room, etc. They had a net profit from their rooms of year of $1,500, besides the good of this kind of religious and social life to those who engaged in it. I can't begin to tell you all that they carry on."

"I am a fine Young Men's Christian association and church all combined, really wanted to find them with a Christian hospital and girls' dormitory. They have none. They have little in providing for all of this. I can't begin to tell you all that they carry on. With means largely equipped the plan and it runs without trouble, by having a wise man and his assistant at the head of it. Oh, how I pray God will put it in the heart of some good person in Atlanta, who has means, to help us put our work of this kind in such shape as to enable us to do more perfectly and with greater ease the work for the people and the cause of Christ. We have got the money in Atlanta, if we only could be made to see the need. I feel very sure that, for the money we have to work with, we are accomplishing as much good for humanity as anything I have yet run up with."

"On the 25th I am going to Leeds to preach and lecture for Rev. Samuel Chadwick, who is so pleasantly remembered in Atlanta. There I shall study his great work. From there I go to Manchester, where I am to make the opening address before one of the largest Baptist training schools in the world. While there I shall study the institutional work of the church, and I shall lead all other work of this character in this country, if not in the world. Of course, I shall get back to London for my Friday night and Sunday work."

"I am about to stumble up in some fine arrangements for our coming March Bible conference. I shall tell you about them when they are completed. Practically, LEN G. BROUGHTON."

"P. S.—I have seen no papers from home yet, but from some letters I think it looks very much like the election has been held."

September 4, 1906."

An eye glass or spectacle, properly adjusted, is always becoming to the wearer. A bad fit is disfiguring and uncomfortable. If there is one more than another that an optician's mechanical skill is called in to play, it is in the adjustment of eye glasses—the proper fitting to the nose, a part of our work in which we are especially skillful. We carry every style of new guards, springs and mountings. We adapt to your nose a style most becoming and comfortable. We make the little light, thin, rimless glasses, and when properly fitted they are beauties. Come in and see the new style lenses—Tories—and have your glasses adjusted.

GEORGIA IS FORMEDSAVANNAH, Ga., September 25.—
(Special.) The Georgia Seagirt
Rifle Team Association, an organization formed for the purpose of fostering rifle practice in the state and bringing it up to a standard that will admit of successful competition with the other state teams that gather each year at Seagirt, has determined to go right ahead with its preparations. Purchase will be made at once of all the necessary supplies to obtain good practice.Requisition will be made upon the state at once for fifty brand-new rifles, the Seagirt will then devote much time to the testing and calibrating of these guns. An anemometer, telescopes, rifle telescopes and bench rests are among the articles that must be secured. CaptainW. G. Austin, who every year has been a member of the Seagirt team, is secretary and treasurer of the association, and has been empowered to proceed with the purchase of all the supplies needed.
Major W. B. Stephens, commanding the Savannah Volunteer Guards, is president of the organization and the chairman of the executive committee.It is not the purpose of the association to confine its work to the Savannah military. On the contrary, every effort will be made to interest the riflemen of Atlanta, Macon and Augusta and other cities, and induce them to practice constantly. Savannah riflemen regret the fading of the laurels that they once won so gracefully after wonderfully successful trips to the New Jersey range.HARNESS RACES met today and decided to put 11 tickets in the field for the county offices. It is also said that a republican will be nomi-

win. Chairman J. C. Simmons says there are some negroes registered, how-to vote while they can, as it seems probable that they will not long enjoy that right. All the nominees are ne-

D. J. Kinnirey Bound Over.

He Claimed That He Beat Negro
Who Had Attacked a White Man.The trial of D. J. Kinnirey, a white man, about 35 years of age, who was arrested on Saturday night for beating a negro, was held today in the city court.
Judge Broyles. This man was arrested by Chief Jennings, Officers Pharr and Wiley.Attorney E. V. Carter was in court to defend Kinnirey. The facts of this case were somewhat different from those of those made during the riot. While returning from the theater that night Kinnirey says he saw a big negro beating a small white man in a street car.Kinnirey went to the rescue, and began beating the black.Mr. Carter made an eloquent plea for his client on the grounds that he was protecting one of his own race from injury by a black.Mr. W. H. Hill, assistant attorney of the city, stated to Judge Broyles that he thought this was a different case from the others which had been heard. He did not think that Kinnirey should have fought the negro, but separated the white man from him. He said that a white man is imposed and that he be bound over.Judge Broyles fined Kinnirey $100 and costs, and bound him over under $1,000 bonds. In making his sentence the rec-order stated that the defendant had come up before him for the past two days were exceedingly difficult.The Hesitant Swain.
(From The Boker.)
He—What would your father do if I told him I wanted to marry you?
She—He'd refer the matter to me.
He—How would you feel about it?
She—He'd refer the matter to me.
He—How would you feel about it?

OPENING PRICES WERE IRREGULAR

Selling Was Active in Some Parts of List

Heavy Realizing in Amalgamated Copper Had Bad Effect on General Speculative Sentiment. Whole List Broke in the Final Hour Trading.

New York, September 25.—The market was held under dull depression for the most part today, but this influence was not allowed to make much headway in affecting prices until the selling of Amalgamated Copper to realize broke the whole market in sympathy. Immediate active factors were not an influence on the market, so much as the belief that the condition of the money market would become an active factor in a short time again. Rates for call money fell below 1 per cent early in the day and conditions in that department of the loan market offered no sign of disturbance. Nevertheless the expectation is quite general that the preparation for the October settlements will involve a flurry in the market. The sums to be paid out next Monday in dividends and interest will be very large. The Union Pacific's semi-annual 5 per cent dividend and the Southern Pacific 1-2 per cent dividend alone will call for nearly $15,000,000, and the aggregate of such payments on that date is estimated at $50,000,000 or more. Politics came in for some consideration in the market by reason of the New York party conventions. Traders made a special demonstration against the municipal corporations of New York city on this score. The dividend increase of Anaconda conformed closely to general expectation. But the heavy realization in stock and in Amalgamated Copper had a bad effect on general speculative sentiment as showing a disposition to sell on good news in a stock that is regarded as a speculative favorite of the group of capitalists most relied upon to carry through the present speculative campaign. This broke the whole market and led to violent declines and a weak and inactive closing.

Bonds were inactive. Total sales, par value, $2,392,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Money on call firm at 4 1/2-5 1/2 per cent; ruling rate 5, closing bid 4 1/2; offered at 5 per cent. Time loans dull and strong; six and ninety days 7 1/2-8 1/2 months 6 1/2-7 1/2 per cent.

Sterling exchange easier with actual business in bankers' bills at 48 3/8-48 3/4 for demand, and at 47 5/8-47 5/4 for sixty-day bills. Posted rates 48 1/2-48 1/4 for 1-2, 47 1/2-47 1/4 for 3-6, 47 1/2-47 1/4 for 6-12.

Bar silver 69 3/8-3/4. Mexican dollars 52 3/4-3/8. Government bonds steady; railroad bonds irregular.

Bradstreet's Available Supply Grain. New York, September 25.—Special cable and telegraphic communications received by Bradstreet's show the following changes in available supplies as compared with previous accounts.

Wheat, United States and Canada east of the Rockies increased 3,438,000; about 1,000,000 in Germany increased 1,100,000; total supply increased 4,538,000.

Corn, United States and Canada east of the Rockies increased 1,479,000 bushels.

Oats, United States and Canada east of the Rockies increased 1,035,000 bushels.

Foreign Finances.—American securities opened dull and unchanged from yesterday's closing. Amalgamated Copper later declined 3-5, and Southern Pacific advanced 1-4, but the rest of the list remained about parity. Americans opened below parity, but the weak accounts appeared to have been eliminated, and prices moved upward at noon, led by Canadian Pacific and Southern Pacific. Later the New York advances caused a better feeling and the close was steady.

Consols for money 98 7/16; do, account 98 1/2; Atchafalpa 110 3/4; do, preferred 108 1/2. Illinois Central 17 1/2; Louisville and Nashville 15 1/2; Bar silver 37 1/2-1/4.

Money 3 1/2-4 1/4 per cent; short and three months' bills 4 1/4-4 3/8 per cent.

Berlin, September 25.—Exchange on London 20 marks; 12 pence for the check. Short bills 1-2 per cent; three months' bills 4 1/2.
